Renewal program to begin

The start of an improvement construction program for the new Romulus' initial urban renewal program is scheduled to get under way today.

Groundbreaking ceremonies with government leaders, city officials and others in attendance is scheduled for 4:40 p.m.

The city's first urban renewal project involved 175 acres of land located in the Wayne-Beverly Roads area. It is bounded on the south by Beverly Road, the north by Van Born Road, on the west by Hamberlin Street and on the east by Howe Road.

The improvement program for the first phase includes the installation of storm drains, water and sanitary sewer lines, grading, paving and drainage. The paving involves 3 1/2 miles of streets in the first phase.

Of the 175 acres, 15 acres will be for multiple dwellings, 3.5 acres for shops and businesses, six acres for parks and the remainder for the construction by private developers of single family residences.

The city's total planned urban renewal development embraces 575 acres to be developed over a 10-year period.

Teachers ratify 1-year contract

By HENRY CANTIN

A one-year contract covering teacher employment for the 1972-73 school year has been accepted and ratified by Romulus Community School District's teachers.

The school district's teachers, members of the Romulus Education Association (REA) ratified the new contract on Sept. 26 by a vote of 166 to 24.

The new master employment agreement which provides for salary increases and other working improvements will be up for ratification by the Romulus Board of Education at its Oct. 9 meeting.

Negotiating teams of the REA and the board of education had previously approved the terms of the new pact at a negotiating session held on Sept. 17.

Assistant School Superintendent James W. Garfield, in announcing the teachers' ratification, said the new contract provides for salary increases but no major changes in present fringe benefits.

Under the new contract teachers with bachelor of arts degrees have a starting salary of $8,500 to a maximum of $14,125. This compares with $8,500 to $13,600 in the 1972-73 school year.

Teachers with master of art degrees will have a starting salary of $9,500 with a 10-step maximum of $16,575. This compares with $9,500 to $16,000 last year. Teachers with specialist degrees have a starting salary of $10,500 to a 10-step maximum of $17,275. This compares with $10,500 to $16,700 in the 1972-73 school year.

The new salary boosts ranging from $525 to $575 will be distributed over the 10-step range or teacher experience. Salary raises are retroactive to Sept. 4.

The new pact also provides for changes in maximum class sizes. Under the new contract class size from kindergarten to third grade is fixed at 35 students as compared to 45 students last year; and from the fourth grade to twelfth the maximum class size also is 35 students.

However, the contract provides that the class size (four to 12) can be increased by 10 per cent, or 38 students in cases of emergencies. Physical education, art and special classes are excluded.

Under the contract teachers received full hospitalization covered in two programs, or have the choice of full dental care. Life insurance is paid by teachers.

Christmas vacation will begin on Dec. 23 and end Jan. 8 this year instead of a week before Christmas to after New Year's. The last day of school for this year was set at June 14.

Commenting on the new contract, a REA spokesman said: "The REA is not completely satisfied with the financial and class size terms of the contract, but recommended the teachers ratify the contract this year rather than go on strike and deprive students of their education."

The old contract expired Aug. 15, and members of the 291 teaching staff of the school district have been working without a contract since the opening of school.

The Romulus City Council formally has requested an investigation by U. S. authorities of federally subsidized housing now existing in the Applewood and Meadowdale Subdivisions in the City of Romulus.

A resolution calling upon Senators Philip Hart and Robert P. Griffin and U. S. Congressman William D. Ford to immediately initiate a total federal probe was unanimously approved by the city council on Sept. 26.

In its resolution, the council said:

"It is the legal obligation of the council to provide, protect and assure the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of Romulus.

"It is believed that a preponderance of the conditions existing in the subdivisions are creditable to homes financed under programs offered by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

"It appears to the council that these conditions have been created, at least in part, and permitted to exist primarily because HUD's reluctance to assume a responsible role with respect to its programs, specifically the 235 Housing Subsidy Program."

The request for a complete federal investigation was made by Council President Jimmie Raspberry, following his initial hearing of numerous complaints filed by area residents and aired at the Sept. 26 council session.

Councilman Brooker R. Edwards, who stated at the hearing that he also heard complaints about the houses in the subdivisions for the first time, offered the resolution for council's adoption. He was supported by Councilman Ellis T. Pennington.

The city council also directed Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael to instruct the building department, code enforcement officer and the Department of Public Works (DPW) as well as the Wayne County Sheriff's Department to get a complete list of complaints lodged by residents. The council also ordered a comprehensive report of the problems occurring in the subdivisions be prepared.

The council ordered corrective actions be taken by these agencies immediately.

An area citizen group has filed numerous complaints with city officials about FHA financed houses that are "fast deteriorating," maliciously vandalized and also robbed of interior fixtures and plumbing and electric appliances, according to the citizens.

They have filed complaints of uncut lawns, high weeds, garbage accumulations and an over abundance of rats in and around the vacant and damaged dwellings.

The more than 20 single family residences now involved in the probe are located in the vicinity of Eureka Road, between Middlebelt and Inkster Roads.

The area residents jammed the city council chambers Sept. 26 in their "determined efforts" to get quick action in fixing responsibility and cleaning up the "bad vacant home conditions" in the subdivisions.

Council to request formal investigation

MALICIOUS DESTRUCTION PROBED — This vacant FHA-financed house is one of more than 20 residences in the City of Romulus under investigation by city, state, and federal officials. The houses are located in the Meadowdale and Applewood subdivisions, constructed in the vicinity of Eureka Road, between Middlebelt and Inkster Roads. Area residents have complained of vandalism, thefts and litter in the area.

The homeowners in the subdivisions have formed a five-member committee to spearhead the campaign to remove the housing conditions.

Airing the complaints before the city council were Mrs. Joan Lee, Mrs. Lorraine Kubiak, Mrs. Joyce Palmer and William Kemp. They demand action and offered to volunteer their services in correcting existing problems.

A Southfield developer, Kaufman and Broad Homes Inc., builder of the homes under investigation, last week announced plans for a clean-up campaign for the Meadowdale and Applewood Subdivisions.

The homes were sold under FHA financing, and many of the vacant and abandoned dwellings were sold under the provisions of 235 Housing Act under which HUD assists in furnishing the initial purchase cost and grants a rental subsidy.

The provisions of the 235 Housing Act are for low income families purchasing homes.

Both subdivisions, located within a one-square mile area, are bounded by Middlebelt, Inkster, Pennsylvania and Eureka Roads. Besides the abandoned and vacant homes, the area is littered with junked cars, trash and other debris, according to citizens.

John Tadesco, regional president of Kaufman and Broad, said his company will provide paint and painting materials, repair tools and materials as well as grass seed and fertilizer and a truck to haul away debris, provided the residents do the work.

From Tadesco's standpoint, the area must be beautified quickly to prevent the subdivisions from getting a bad name, which would jeopardize Kaufman and Broad's investment.

The firm has built 405 homes in the subdivisions during the last four years. Another 100 are in various stages of construction and 500 more are planned.

Romulus to absorb water rate increase

A water rate increase of more than 17 per cent which will become effective on Nov. 1 will not be paid by residents of the City of Romulus but will be absorbed by the city, the Romulus City Council ruled.

The Detroit Water Department which serves the Romulus community and surrounding communities recently announced its rate increase to meet rising costs and expansion facilities.

The council's action taken last week was based on the recommendation of City Auditor Frank Smythe of the auditing firm of Post, Smythe, Lutz and Ziel of Detroit, and the city's financial director, Mrs. Helen Gallien.

The city's absorption of the new water rate increase will amount to between $40,000 and $45,000 additional expense to city administration.

It is the second time that the city has absorbed a water rate boost rather than pass it on to Romulus water users. The first time was in 1968 when the city was under township rule.

Smythe told the city council the "system's expansion due to industrial and residential growth is adequately covering the rate increase." The Romulus community has at present approximately 23,000 residents.

As of Aug. 17, the average gross water bill in Romulus based on an average of 2,800 cubic feet (21,000 gallons) amounts to $14.90 and or a net bill of $13.40. The bill consists of water, $7; sewer, $4.90; and water service, $1.50.

Residents, it was stated, can compute the rate increase that will be absorbed by the city by adding 17 per cent to current bills.

For Romulus rezoning

Public hearing set

The Romulus City Council instructed the Romulus Planning Commission to schedule a public hearing on a rezoning request made by the United Brass Manufacturing Inc. 35030 Goddard Rd., Romulus. At press time the commission had not, as yet, set the date.

The council also instructed the planning commission to notify surrounding property owners of the public hearing and to prepare copies of the transcript of the hearing for council members.

The firm is seeking the rezoning to expand its Romulus facilities.

The plant, presently located in a M-2 (factory use) zone, currently is building on an adjacent one-acre land parcel zoned O-1 (office use) which the firm seeks to rezone to M-2.

The firm had on the basis of its approved building permit started construction on a $200,000 to $250,000 expansion program, and already had expended $75,000 on the expansion program when co-owners of adjacent property initiated a suit in Wayne County Circuit Court against the firm.

The suit charged that the building permit was illegally issued by the city's building department and in violation of the city's master zoning ordinance.

A request for an injunction was refused by Circuit Court Judge John P. O'Hara, who advised the attorneys representing the firm that if the company proceeds with its expansion it does so at its own peril, according to attorney

Carmichael must return employe to former job

The city council has mandated Romulus Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael to return a city employe to her former position as planning department secretary from an administrative assignment to the city hall switchboard.

The council also ordered the salary for the receptionist to the mayor be taken out of the mayor's paycheck until her return to her "proper" position as switchboard operator.

When informed of council's action (taken on Sept. 26), Mayor Carmichael said:

"They can't do it because my wages are set by the city charter and as long as I am mayor of Romulus, I'll assign people where I think the city needs them."

The mayor said the secretary was borrowed from the planning department for switchboard operator assignment.

"We in the administration of city government have the right to switch employes as long as we do not affect their classification or pay them a higher salary, or downgrade them without adjusting their wage scale."

"The planning department had no planner. We switched her assignment but at the same rate of pay."

His administrative secretary has been developing a personnel record system and handling personnel matters. The switchboard operator was transferred to the mayor's office as receptionist.

"I can assign employes to lesser jobs provided I don't decrease their salary," Carmichael said.

He accused the city council of "playing politics."

On federal funds

Area communities lose out

Under the provisions of a compromise Federal Revenue Sharing Bill before Congress last week area communities are losing out.

Reaction has been less than enthusiastic to the tentative figures which show allocations of less than $5 per-person in Romulus, and Brownstown, Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren Townships.

The reason for this less than enthusiastic reaction is the allocation for larger communities like Dearborn and Detroit, which are both slated to receive close to $25 per-person.

Congressman William D. Ford's office reported that he was "upset" with the tentative revenue sharing figures because they "favor the big cities."

Ford's administrative assistant, Frank Rathbun, said the congressman was "thinking seriously of voting against the revenue sharing bill" when the compromise bill comes up for a vote in Congress this week.

The city of Belleville will not receive any of the revenue sharing funds, because 1970 census figures are below the 2,500 population mark needed to qualify.

Revenue sharing is based on the concept that the federal government has preempted all the richest sources of revenue, while states and local units of government face a rising tide of costs for fire and police protection, schools and other services.

The distribution of federal funds is expected to correct this imbalance. Money received under the revenue sharing program will not affect other federal grant-in-aid programs for items like sewers systems or roads.

The legislation itself is one of the most complex ever to occupy congress. The share of each state and each locality is computed according to an exact formula.

Tentative figures based on this formula are: Romulus, $108,000; Brownstown Township, $33,000; Huron Township, $38,000; Sumpter Township, $38,000; Van Buren Township, $62,000.

Pension probe asked by Faust

Concern on the part of Michigan workers about the security of their promised pensions has prompted Sen.

William Faust (D-13th District) to introduce a resolution creating a special committee to study interstate pension problems.

Faust said that the committee would investigate the problems in nonpayment of private pension plans when business failures, market decisions, acquisition by conglomerates, or other economic conditions cause abrupt termination of pension plans.

"It is unfair and unjust to ask an individual who has spent a lifetime working for the same company to resort to applying for public welfare because his pension commitment will not be honored and his Social Security benefits will not support him and his wife," said Faust.

"Too many workers unreasonably lose pension entitlements or fail to qualify for them through no fault or failure of their own," he said.

MERE CHRISTIANITY

This series of articles is questioning the extent to which many of those who claim to be Christians really accept Christ. Consider another example.

The Head of the church, through his Spirit-filled ambassadors, answered another question about baptism. Who is a proper subject of baptism? "Then they that received his word were baptized" (Acts 2:41). "But when they believed Philip preaching good tidings concerning the kingdom of God and name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women" (Acts 8:12). Who were baptized? "They that received his word." "When they believed... they were baptized." Collect all the references to baptism and you will not find an exception to this rule. Infant baptism is an invention of men.

The churches of men will likely do as they think best. The churches of Christ will yield to their Head in this as in all matters and thus show themselves to be churches of Christ.

MERE CHRISTIANITY is presented by the Christians who meet at 9426 S. Wayne Road in Romulus. Watch for it each week. Sunday services are at 10 (Bible study) and 11 A.M. and 6 P.M. Write for free BIBLE CORRESPONDENCE COURSE to Church of Christ, Box 155, Romulus, Michigan, 48174.

Police probe complaint

The Romulus Police Department investigated 135 complaints during a three-month period ended Aug. 31, a report presented to the Romulus City Council by Police Chief Jacob J. Koch disclosed.

Chief Koch, who also is the city's ordinance enforcement officer, reported the complaints consisted of 74 inoperable motor vehicles, 13 unkept premises, four abandoned motor vehicles, eight dumping complaints and six business license investigations.

The police chief added that warnings were issued to 46 of the complaints. Compliance to city codes and ordinances was received in 30 cases and five warrants were issued. In 12 cases, residents were instructed to appear in court on summons issued by the police department.

During the three-month period, Koch referred 13 complaints to the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, the city's law enforcement agency, 14 complaints were referred to the Wayne County Health Department, five to the Romulus Building Department and eight to the Romulus Department of Public Works (DPW).

City council refers 3 bids

Three bid proposals received by the City of Romulus for city purchase of copper wire, curb boxes and curb stops for the Department of Public Works (DPW) have been referred by city council to DPW director William Pritula for study and recommendation.

The proposals were submitted by Michigan Hydrant, Allison Ford and Federal Copper.

Councilman William M. Oakley made the request to refer the bids which ranged from $3,396 for parts of the contract to $11,529.76 for the entire contract to the DPW director. He was supported by Councilman James C. Stewart.

Councilman Brooker R. Edwards objected to the reference pointing out that the council should make the decision without any reference to the DPW director as the council is responsible for the expenditure of city funds. Council President James Raspberry concurred in Edwards' objection.

The request to refer the bids to Pritula was approved by a roll call vote of 5 to 2.

The council rejected bids received on the purchase of a trailer for the DPW because the approval for the letting of bids for the trailer was not initially authorized by the council.

Huron contract calls for increase in wages

A new contract between the Huron School District's Board of Education and its custodians, maintenance personnel and bus drivers has been ratified. School Superintendent Bryon K. Antcliff said Monday.

The new contract calls for a three percent wage increase retroactive to Sept. 20, with an additional one percent to be added on Jan. 29.

The employees were represented by Teamsters Local 214 in the negotiating sessions while Thomas Norberg, school board attorney, was the chief negotiator for the board of education.

At last week's council session, the council was told that the planning commission had approved the rezoning of the adjacent land parcel.

Ballot deadline is set

Absentee ballots for the Nov. 7 general election have been sent to all area clerks.

Area residents have until 2 p.m. Nov. 4 to apply for an absentee ballot.

Voters should apply if they plan to be out of town on election day, if they are unable to attend the polls without the assistance of another, if they cannot vote because of the dictates of their religion, if they have been appointed a precinct inspector, or if they are 65 years or older.

Maintenance contract set

A five-year maintenance agreement with the Honeywell Inc. of Detroit for the heating and air-conditioning equipment in the City of Romulus' Municipal Complex, located at S. Wayne and Goddard Roads, Romulus, has been approved by the Romulus City Council.

The city's municipal complex's initial structures are the Romulus Public Library and the Romulus Municipal Building. Other structures planned for the civic center are a new court house and police headquarters.

In approving the agreement, the council authorized Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael to sign the maintenance agreement and send to each council member a copy of the agreement.

Under the terms of the maintenance contract, the city will pay the sum of $15,785 per year during the life of the contract.

A request to trade-in four typewriters made by City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar has been taken under advisement by the Romulus City Council.

Another request made by the city clerk for an office service worker was tabled by the Council.

On a motion made by Councilman William M. Oakley who was supported by Fred Junior Block, the council authorized the posting of the position of building attendant as provided under the terms of the union contract between the city and Teamsters Local 214.

Enrollment is up in area schools

The Romulus Community School District has an increase of 169 students for the 1972-73 school year, said Assistant School Superintendent James W. Garfield. The school district's fourth Friday student count showed a total enrollment of 6,505 students, an increase of 169 students when compared with last year's enrollment of 6,336, Garfield said.

The district's state aid is based on student enrollment and also determined on the district's property valuation, state equalized, which has been reported to be higher than last year.

Garfield said the school district will receive an estimated boost of approximately $100,000 in state aid for the coming year.

He said, however, that the reported higher property valuation for the district would reduce estimated state aid.

Eight nominees are named for chamber

Romulus reinstates stop for school bus

A request by a group of concerned parents led by Harold Gregory of 11494 Moore St., Romulus, for the reinstatement of the school bus stop at Grant Road and Moore Street, has been approved by the Romulus Board of Education.

Gregory, in a recent appearance before the school board, reported that the parents are concerned over the safety of children in his neighborhood since the bus stop at Grant Road and Moore Street has been discontinued.

He said that the children are leaving the school bus at Hunt Street and walking along Grant Road to Moore Street. He stressed the hazards of Grant Road traffic.

Thomas Janack, assistant superintendent of maintenance and operation told the school board that at the board's direction the stop in question was initiated last year for a one year period to pick up and discharge kindergarten children.

He added that inasmuch as there is only approximately 300 feet difference in the stops, it would make no difference to the transportation department where the stop is located.

Robert Plank of 35805 Herman St., Romulus, stated that, since it seems to be the policy throughout the city to consider first the safety of the children, he felt the board should honor the request.

Voters to have say in school tax reform

By DON HOENSHELL Associated Newspapers Lansing Bureau

EDITOR'S NOTE — The accompanying article is one in a series of stories concerning the five statewide proposals to be included on the November 8 ballot. Listed is the language of one of the proposals.

PROPOSAL C

PROPOSAL TO LIMIT PROPERTY TAX FOR SCHOOL, COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP PURPOSES AND TO PROVIDE THAT THE LEGISLATURE SHALL ESTABLISH A STATE TAX PROGRAM FOR SUPPORT OF SCHOOLS.

The proposed (constitutional) amendment would:

- (1) ban a property tax for general school operation purposes;
- (2) limit the property tax to allocated amounts for specified county, township and school purposes, the total not to exceed 26 mills; and
- (3) require the legislature to establish a tax program for raising and distributing funds for public elementary and secondary schools; and
- (4) provide for distributing supplemental funds, based on local need, for specified purposes.

PROPOSAL D

PROPOSAL TO REMOVE CONSTITUTIONAL BAN AGAINST GRADUATED INCOME TAX.

The proposed (constitutional) amendment would enable the legislature to impose a flat rate or graduated state income tax and to enact laws to permit local units to levy a flat rate or graduated income tax.

Two major elements of educational financing reform will go before the voters Nov. 7 in the hectic structure of a gun-at-the-head compromise.

The two parts may be considered separately on the ballot, a pre-ordained device which separates the Republicans and Democrats.

And how they got on the ballot in that form tells the story of three years of political and legislative struggle over Gov. William G. Milliken's educational reform package.

Milliken, viewing decades of rebellion against the local property tax and its spotty performance in financing the schools, started pushing in 1969 for the state to take over the costs of school operations.

It was part of a nationwide movement, highlighted last year by court decisions in California and elsewhere ruling that the varying levels of educational quality between school districts violated the constitutional guarantee of equality under the law.

Other parts of the court rulings held that the property tax is inequitable to taxpayers and denies due process.

Milliken's idea, first embodied in a proposed constitutional amendment in the House by Rep. Roy L. Smith (R-Ypsilanti) was to eliminate the property tax as the primary source of school financing.

This would create a loss of more than a billion dollars in school funding, a loss Milliken's plan would leave to the legislature to cover by increasing the flat rate state income tax from 3.9 to 7 per cent.

Democrats, stroking an old political pet, demanded that the state go to a graduated state income tax, ranging from 2 to 14 per cent as the more equitable way to make up the loss.

Milliken indulged in "an honorable compromise" with House Speaker William A. Ryan (D-Detroit) and the property tax relief proposal was joined with the graduated income tax and passed by the House.

Milliken's compromise on the graduated income tax enraged Republicans and the combined proposal was blocked in the Senate. Milliken started his own petition campaign for property tax relief without the tax feature.

Democrats launched a rival petition drive for the graduated tax.

The Michigan Education Association (MEA), with Milliken's blessing, stepped in at this point with a third campaign for signatures behind the plan for property tax relief with a separate proposal, merely to lift the constitutional ban against the graduated income tax.

The two-way proposal of the MEA became the ballot issues.

If both are approved, the legislature will be able to use a graduated tax to replace the lost property tax money. If the property tax issue is approved and the income tax issue is defeated, the result will be what Milliken proposed in the first place. It would, in Proposal C:

—Reduce the property tax for school operations to zero and the property tax for all purposes from 50 mills (15 as the constitutional limit plus 35 with voter approval) to 26 mills.

—Spread the remaining 26 mills of the property tax in this manner: Eight for counties, 1½ for townships, 4½ for intermediate school districts, special education, compensatory education, vocational education.

—Continue the taxing authority of cities, villages.

—Require the legislature to establish a state tax structure "for raising and distributing funds to assure equal education" and distribute the 4½ mills for intermediate and special education programs.

Proposal D, designed to reduce Democratic opposition, would eliminate the ban against the graduated income tax and leave it to the legislature whether to adopt it or raise the flat rate levy.

Democrats state that the graduated rate — plus property tax relief — would result in those making more than $20,000 a year paying the bill for the increases.

It means that the increase in their income tax would more than offset their property tax relief benefits.

Early in the game, local school people raised the objection that state control over local education would follow when the state takes over the financing of operations.

In many minds it was paired with the loss of local control threatened by federal court orders to bus students between districts to achieve racial balance in the schools.

Milliken denies any threat to local control of the schools, arguing that boards of education will still make the local decisions but will be freed from worry over millage elections.

We choose 'life' on November ballot

Michigan voters will make a life or death decision at the polls November 7 on the issue of unrestricted abortion. We choose life.

The question, debated for three years and more in the Michigan legislature, narrows down to that simple but morally critical point despite all the rhetoric flowing from both sides.

Pro-abortionists argue that an unborn child is not yet a person with rights and that, if his presence impinges on the convenience of society, a human adult can make a decision to destroy it.

They raise the doubt that life exists before the quickening stage has been reached despite medical evidence that the first month is the fastest and most important growing period for a fetus.

Legalized abortion for Michigan is another tragic milestone in the growing disrespect for human life and the philosophy of decadent Rome, that material pursuits are the ends of life.

The terrible irony is that those, who seek to destroy an unborn child in the name of freedom of choice for an adult, accept the humanistic view that even the most heinous criminal cannot be deprived of his life or freedom until he is found guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Basically, abortion gives social and economic convenience precedence over the right of a human being to exist.

The latest attempt to legalize abortion in Michigan was passed by the Senate and blocked by the House this year and efforts to revive it failed repeatedly. It was bad legislation, but the ballot proposal is worse.

The legislative plan would have allowed an abortion within the first 90 days of pregnancy if the woman had been a resident of Michigan for 90 days. It would have required that her husband be notified, or her parents, if she were living at home.

On the ballot will be a proposal to allow an abortion during the first 20 weeks, or five months. There also would be no resident requirement for the pregnant woman.

Abortion is put forward as a simplistic solution to many of the very serious problems facing society. Instead of making life more tolerable, the proposal is made to destroy life.

It is unconscionable that this medical technique, no matter how cosmetized and promoted, replace love as the shaper of our families and society.

We choose life.

Athletics offer lesson to spectators too

By BYRON K. ANTCLIFF

School Superintendent Huron School District

Last spring a disc jockey in Kansas City wanted first baseman John Mayberry sent to Waterloo, Iowa, and Joe Falls, sports editor of a Detroit newspaper, wanted Al Kaline to quit. Neither, of course, were doing well at the time.

Today Kaline is batting an outstanding .305, and Mayberry is hitting .303 with 100 RBIs, which is second best in the American League.

I believe we are in danger of becoming a nation of spectators — spectators who are satisfied with perfection and nothing else. We desire to switch people as we switch television channels. If John Mayberry is not doing well, switch players and get rid of him.

As a result of this demand for perfection, we see participation falling off in high school athletics. Many high school sports now exist to please spectators rather than promote growth in young people.

Can anything be done to change this? Several things can, I believe.

We can become more active ourselves which helps us to remember that none of us are perfect performers.

Support can be given to the high school coach, who after all is a teacher first and a coach second. A coach whose real task is not to win but to promote positive growth.

We can remember the real value of athletics. Athletics should teach young people the value of sticking to a task to obtain achievement. This is a hard value to communicate in the present atmosphere.

We want to teach young people not to quit and yet, as spectators, we demand that imperfect players be quickly discarded.

Athletics should teach the value of loyalty. Anyone can be loyal to a winner. It takes real courage to be loyal to a loser who is going through hard times at the moment.

We must develop programs for both girls and boys.

We need to bear in mind that probably the greatest value which athletics afford, the opportunity to learn, is the mutual respect by people who are striving towards an opposite goal.

If we could learn this lesson we can truly love our enemies and still disagree with them.

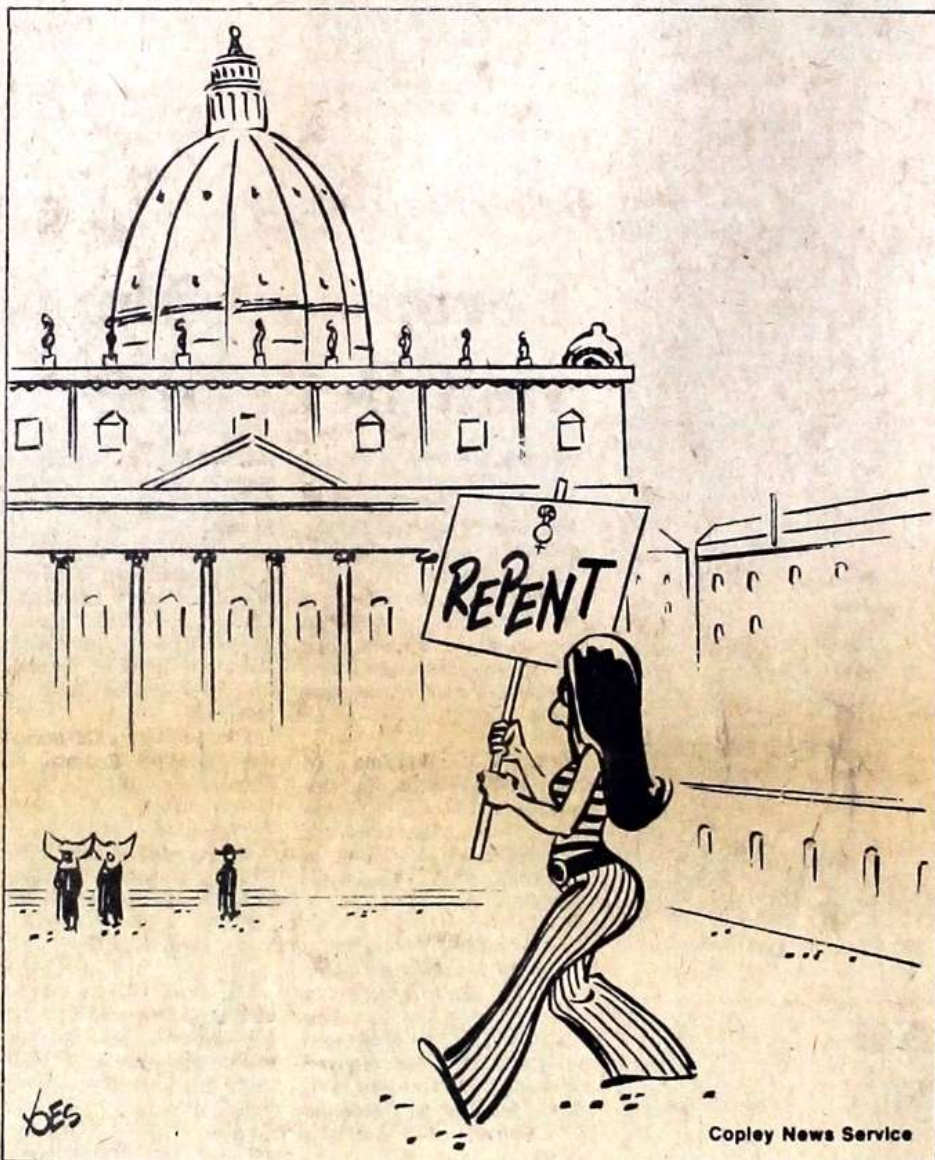

If we do not place such an emphasis on high school athletics, we should eliminate them.

I wonder where the Tigers would be today if Al Kaline had followed Joe Fall's advice.

Construction code will set standards

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK, State Representative, 38th District

There were a number of major bills signed into law between the time the legislature went into summer recess and the recent start of the fall session.

One of the most significant was the long-awaited new state construction code act. This statewide uniform building code will open what many see as a new era for Michigan's construction industry.

The new law will establish a nine-member commission which will draw up the statewide construction code, authorize inspections, review local building ordinances and investigate new types of building materials and techniques. The commission, which will be within the department of labor becomes effective on Jan. 1.

Local communities will have to either come under the state code or else adopt one of two nationally recognized codes.

The new uniform code will make Michigan construction provisions consistent with nationally recognized standards, eliminate obsolete and conflicting construction regulations in many areas, allow for the use of new technology in building and provide for better consumer protection in electrical work, plumbing, sanitation and other areas.

As it is now, there is no uniform code, but rather a patchwork of local codes which often differ from community to community.

A survey taken earlier in the year showed that Michigan has 531 local construction codes and 350 communities had no construction ordinances at all.

This had tended to limit the ability of the construction industry to use new types of materials and techniques, affected the costs and quality of housing in many areas, and discouraged some building firms from doing business in Michigan.

Hopefully, the new code will have an impact on the state's housing shortage, producing sounder homes at lower cost for Michigan residents.

Another new law will improve the administration of migrant labor camp licensing programs. It will give the state public health director greater authority to prevent the establishment of unlicensed camps and also reduce the time intervals in actions connected with license denials.

Still another new law will permit the state police to issue personal identification cards to residents. The fee for the cards will be $3.

This is what some of the other new public acts will do: —Require a township to extend the authorized time for payment of special street paving assessments from five to 10 years.

—Authorize school districts to employ registered nurses for professional nursing services.

—Authorize a bank to purchase stock in a corporation which in turn provides capital for banks primarily controlled by racial minorities.

—Abolish the present Indian affairs commission and transfer its functions, records and personnel to a new nine-member commission within the executive office.

—Permit city mayors or Wayne County clerks to perform marriages.

—Permit third and fourth class school districts to borrow money or issue bonds at a rate similar to that of first and second class districts; that is, to a limit of five per cent of the state equalized valuation of the district, without a vote of the people.

—Allow designated law enforcement officers to take charge of a body and investigate circumstances of the death, instead of examination by a medical examiner.

—Require a race track to deposit with the state within 90 days all funds held for payment of outstanding and uncollected winning tickets.

—Permit expansion of group life insurance coverage to employees' dependents or members insured under group contracts issued by employers or associations.

Romulus teachers accept board offer

To the editor:

Romulus teachers ratified their newly negotiated contract with the board of education on Sept. 19, following recommendation by the Romulus Education Association (REA) negotiating team. The ratification vote was 166-24.

The REA agreed to accept the salary proposal of the board in return for a binding class size statement in the contract, even though it represents one of the lowest salary settlements in Wayne County.

The new salary schedule will result in pay increases that are less than fiscal cost of living increases for more than a third of system teachers.

Class sizes in grades kindergarten through three are now bound to a maximum of 35. Academic class sizes in grades four through 12 are bound to a maximum of 35 with a 10 per cent variation factor allowable only after action by the superintendent.

There is no change in the fringe benefit package of system teachers, as reported last week in the Romulus Roman.

The new contract states that eligibility for a leave of absence requires that a teacher have two years experience in the system. Last year's contract required only one year.

Last year's controversial maternity leave clause, and the stipulations it contained, having been proven illegal in courts throughout the country, gave way to a more liberal clause. It is believed that the new maternity leave policy will benefit teachers and the board alike.

Early in negotiations, agreement was reached on a procedure for notifying teachers of board policy, a tighter agency shop clause, and a layoff procedure. It is also now mandatory that a teacher retire upon reaching the age of 65.

Swiss Beef Roulades

Thank the French for the term, roulade, which means a slice of meat rolled around a filling and cooked. Yet thanks go to the culinary creativity of an American cook for the development of the recipe for Swiss Beef Roulades.

The carrot filled roulades bake with little attention, smothered in a tasty tomato sauce including fresh mushrooms and topped with shredded Cheddar cheese for additional flavor and appetite appeal.

Round steak is the perfect meat cut for roulades, advises Reba Staggs, home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Lean and boneless or easily boned, it assures ease in cutting into individual servings and rolling up the filling.

SWISS BEEF ROULADES

2 pounds round steak, cut 1/2 inch thick
3 medium-sized carrots, each cut in 6 strips
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 small onion, chopped
1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Cut steak into 6 serving pieces and pound to 1/4 inch thickness. Place 3 carrot strips on each piece of steak. Season carrots with 1/4 teaspoon salt, roll meat around carrots and fasten with wooden picks. Combine flour, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper and garlic powder. Dredge meat in seasoned flour, reserving an excess. Brown roulades in lard or drippings and place in a shallow baking dish. Combine tomato sauce, onion and any reserved seasoned flour and pour over meat. Cover tightly and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 hours. Add mushrooms to sauce and sprinkle cheese on top. Cover and continue baking for 20 minutes. Serve sauce over meat and garnish with chopped parsley. 6 servings.

Weise-Morris

Belleville graduates united in marriage

Double ring vows were exchanged September 9 between Margaret Morris and Charles Weise, both of Belleville. The Community Free Will Baptist Church in Wayne was reserved for their six o'clock ceremony read by the Rev. Robert C. Porter.

Fan arrangements of mums and gladiolas adorned the altar as Margaret approached on the arm of her father. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Morris of 15700 Haggerty Road, she appeared in a floor length gown of ivory Chantilly lace fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves accented with baby seed pearls.

A Camelot headpiece secured her waist-length veil and a bouquet of mums, carnations, and baby roses in the autumnal colors of browns, oranges and yellows completed her ensemble.

THE BRIDE'S older sister, Sandy Armstrong of Belleville, carried out the role of honor attendant in a chiffon gown designed with an apricot bodice and multi-colored skirt. She wore an avocado hat and carried a bouquet of brown, orange and yellow mums.

Roxanne Morris, younger sister of the bride; Dianne Mroz; and Leslie Duke, sister of the bridegroom, were identically dressed for their parts as bridesmaids.

Five-year old Toni Nowak, the flowergirl, wore a miniature version of the senior attendants frocks and carried a little bouquet of mums and carnations in fall colors.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weise of 40396 Alden Drive, Belleville, asked his brother, Eddie Weise of Garden City, to serve as best man. The corps of ushers included Mike Yoder of Belleville; Dewey Duke of Inkster, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; and Jack Haswell of Belleville. Five-year old Shawn Armstrong filled the role of ringbearer.

THE ROMULUS PROGRESSIVE Hall was the setting for the reception which followed. The 300 guests were greeted by Mrs. Morris in a formal gown of apricot chiffon and Mrs. Weise in a pale green chiffon formal.

After honeymooning for a week at Atlanta, Michigan, the newlyweds took up residence at 3409 Hannan Road, Wayne.

Both the bride and bridegroom are 1971 graduates of Belleville High School. She is currently employed at Perkins Pancake House in Ypsilanti and he is an employee of Mack Truck in Dearborn.

The trio was home from Fort Gordon, Georgia for a 19-day visit before Frank returned to duty with the U.S. Army at Fort Jackson, North Carolina and his transfer to Frankfurt, Germany.

The junior Salas, who divided their time between his parents and hers, the Donald Matsches of Wayne, had their three-months old daughter baptized during their stay. Father Raymond Skoney presided at the ceremony after which the paternal grandparents entertained at dinner.

Guests included the baby's God-mother, Sue Ludwig of Plymouth, (Frank, Sr. was God-father for his granddaughter) the great-grandparents, Mrs. Victoria Sala and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bohl; a great-aunt, Miss Deanna Sala; and aunt, Karen Sala.

Kay and the baby are remaining in Michigan until arrangements are made for their trip to Germany.

BPW's history-in-verse read at a anniversary party

On Monday evening, September 18, 97 persons gathered at Leight's Banquet Room in Wayne for the 25th anniversary birthday dinner of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club. The party began with Ruth Baehr singing the Collect, her accompanist being Gwendyth Ashe. Toastmistress, Vira Petraska, introduced the guests at the head table and also charter members, past presidents, visiting clubs, and state and district officers.

The welcome was given by Ruth Davis, Belleville B.P.W. President, and greeting were extended by Phyllis Clark, president of Michigan Federation of B.P.W. Clubs.

Mrs. Royce Smith read a letter from the Mayor of Belleville and added good wishes of her own after which Van Buren Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer gave his congratulations. A communication was read from Virginia Allen, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State of Public Affairs.

The anniversary committee did a beautiful job getting out news of the party. There were three past state presidents in attendance: Olga Taylor of Garden City; Madeline Vick of Birmingham; and Charri Peterson of Southfield. The state president, Phyllis Clark; two of her officers, Joyce Mallory, the state secretary; and Opal Lavender, the state treasurer; and Eula Funk, the state expansion chairman, also attended. Members from other BPW Clubs included Ann Arbor, Adrian, Garden City, Lincoln Park, Southfield, Birmingham, Northville, Wyandotte, Detroit (North and East) and the mother club, Ypsilanti.

To make the evening memorable Irene Whalen gave the club history, all in verse.

The Belleville Club received its original character September 10, 1947 at a dinner in the Denton Methodist Church. The club was sponsored by the Ypsilanti B.P.W. Club. Irene Whalen was elected the first President. Some of the Belleville Club's activities include the Blood Bank (which will be held October 23 at Belleville High School) and the yearly scholarship which is awarded to a worthy Belleville senior girl.

At Christmas time the club sponsors the Mia-Me Sewing Club which sews for children under five years of age, turning out lovely new garments which are distributed to the needy. The group also fills ditty bags for the Red Cross and contributes to the Girl Scouts.

The Episcopal Church Women are busy preparing for their Annual Harvest Dinner which will be held Wednesday, October 11, in the church hall, corner Belleville Rd. and Venetian St.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

NEW! Advertisers know the word has impact. Almost magic appeal. A new service or product signifies, or at least implies new knowledge has been acquired. It is more abundant in our life time than in any previous era in history. Take for example the knowledge acquired in transmission of sight and sound in TV, computerized information instantly available, the knowledge acquired in the landing of man on the moon, etc.

Smooth and fluent phrases lead people to believe man's knowledge in many things will make all things possible. Nothing seems impossible. Yet, with all this acquisition of knowledge, perilous problems of personal, family and social nature have increased. Personal discontent and unhappiness out-matches satisfaction and happiness for many people throughout the world. Why? The reason was given centuries ago by Solomon when he wrote the last verse in Ecclesiastes: "For in much wisdom is much grief; and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow"...The Bible is right — again...

Schultzs mark 65th year of togetherness

When it comes to longevity in a marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schultz of 3928 Haggerty Road, Belleville, possibly hold the area's record. Their 65th year of togetherness was observed recently when their grandchildren hosted a dinner party in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kolver opened their home on Haggerty Road for the special event with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fry of Belleville sharing the hosting duties.

SOME 25 GUESTS including Mr. Schultz's sister, Mrs. Anna Nass of Wayne, who was a bridesmaid at the wedding over a half-century ago, attended the celebration. Others on the guest list were Mrs. Schultz's sister, Mrs. Selma Schrader of New Hudson, and Mr. Schultz's other sisters, Mrs. Martha Preiskorn and Mrs. Laura Plant of Westland.

Still others were the Schultz's son, Clarence, and their son-in-law, Fred Kolver, both of Belleville; and their great-grandchildren, Jill Kolver and Scott and Steven Fry. Also their niece and nephew, Miss Helen Preiskorn of Westland and Ted Nass of Wayne; and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fry of New Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drake of Belleville; and Miss Caroline Zuercher, Mrs. Eleanor Froehlich, Walter Froehlich, and Frank Zuercher, all of Romulus.

THE HONORED COUPLE were united in marriage September 21, 1907, at St. John's Lutheran Church of Wayne, the Rev. O. Peters having presided at the nuptials. The Schultzs made their home in Wayne prior to moving to Romulus and then to Belleville. Retired farmers, they have resided at their present address for over 50 years. They are members of St. Michael's Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Their family tree includes two children, a son Clarence of Belleville, and a daughter, Elsie Kolver, who is deceased; two grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Vows exchanged by Fleming-Bird

Pamela R. Bird, daughter of the Ralph A. Birds of 46470 Bemis Road, Belleville, and Michael D. Fleming, son of the James Flemings of 588 Hayes, Ypsilanti, exchanged double ring wedding vows September 9 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

The Rev. Charles Dibley presided at the six thirty ceremony before some 200 assembled guests.

The bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Southward, were organist and soloist, respectively, at the wedding, the vocal numbers being "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, Pam wore a bouffant-skirted gown of colonial lace over silk, the embroidered bodice featuring a "boat neckline and long sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a cap of silk petals with pearl trim and her bouquet was comprised of white carnations, apricot roses, baby's breath, and green ivy.

Mrs. Cindy Towler of Ann Arbor served as honor attendant and Robert Jordan of Ypsilanti was best man.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL D. FLEMING

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gary R. Towler of Ypsilanti; Pat Perdue of Belleville; and Yvonne Wheatley of Wayne, the bride's cousin who was junior attendant.

Their apricot-colored gowns were fashioned in the empire mode with A-line skirts and daisy trim. They wore flowered daisy headpieces and held bouquets of orange and yellow daisies, strawflowers, yellow mums, and ivy.

CONNIE SOUTHWARD, eight, daughter of the Jim Southwards of Belleville, was her cousin's flowergirl in a miniature version of the senior attendants' frocks. The basket she held was filled with daisies, mums and strawflowers.

Ringbearer was 10-year old Kenneth Bird, son of the Cyril Birds of Romulus.

Groomsmen included Charles Brink, Jr. of Ypsilanti, and the bride's two brothers, Roger and Craig Bird of Belleville.

A light blue polyester coat-dress ensemble was chosen by Mrs. Bird for her daughter's wedding while the bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise satin dress with a companion coat in floral print. Both donned matching accessories and corsages of carnations tinted to match their frocks.

Guests later gathered at UAW Hall, Local 849 of Ypsilanti for the reception which followed.

The newlyweds are now making their home at 837 Forest Court, Ypsilanti, where the bridegroom is employed at the Ford Motor Company. The new Mrs. Fleming attended Cleary College after her graduation from Belleville High School in 1970. Her husband is a 1971 graduate of Willow Run High School.

The senior Flemings entertained at the rehearsal dinner which was held at Spearman's Restaurant in Romulus.

All Around The Town

...with Lee

two weeks, they motored through the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, France, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Austria, and Germany. Sharing the camping portion of the tour with them were Felix and Helen Feitel of Belleville and Dale and Shirley Hoyt of Inkster (she's the former Shirley Shaeffer of Belleville.)

Highlighting their venture were cheese factory tours and canal trips in Amsterdam; the Royal Palace in Brussels; and the U.S. Memorial at Bastogne. At Heidelberg they viewed the Roman Bridge and Gates and then traveled through the Black Forest into Switzerland where they literally 'flipped' while visiting a cuckoo clock factory (sending eight of the creations back to the States!) In Lucerne they enjoyed the boat cruise on Lake Lucerne and the tour of Mount Pilatus which included a breath-taking cable car ride which was repeated as they rose into the Alps in Innsbruck the following day.

A two-night stay was on the agenda in Vienna where they visited the Stift-Melk Monastery and Schonbrunn Castle and later the Salzburg Cathedral.

In Germany they motored along the Rhine via the route called the 'romantic road' seeing the many old castles along the way; stopping to visit the old stone bridge and Roman gates at Wurtsburg and the Gothic Cathedral at Cologne.

Returning to Amsterdam (where the Hoyts spent their final week) the Skszeks departed by air for Poland calling on Wally's relatives in Kielce and Kotowice. Although their accommodations were straw mattresses in a Communist commune, the hospitality was unequalled in its warmth (lotsa huggin' and kissin', Dorothy says.) Other memorable parts of their week-long stay in Poland were the Shrine of Czestochova and a sad, depressing tour of the museum at Auschwitz.

They also called on several more kinfolk in Warsaw before winging back to Amsterdam where the original tour group assembled for the flight home. (The Feitels had joined 10 other couples for a trip to Denmark, Norway and Sweden for their last seven days.) A local restaurant, "The Rice Table", was the gathering spot for the group who joined together for an Indonesian dinner followed by a visit to Ann Frank's home before they departed.

With hundreds of slides, miles of movie film and piles of stills being taken on the tour, the travelers are now looking forward to their reunion which will no doubt be one giant-sized travelogue.

MRS. JEFFREY JAY HEATH

Autumn nuptials unite Heath-Shook

A 10-day honeymoon in Northern Michigan followed the September 23 marriage of Sandra Ann Shook and Jeffrey Jay Heath. The Rev. Sidney S. Rood presided at the double ring nuptials in St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Ypsilanti.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark M. Shook of 6770 Bunton Road, Ypsilanti, her mother having taught in the Van Buren Public Schools for 23½ years prior to her retirement.

For the evening ceremony, Sandra appeared in a floor-length gown of Skinner's lute song designed with a high neckline and long full sleeves ending in deep cuffs. Chantilly lace medallions accented the empire bodice and also formed the border on the bride's mantilla veil which drifted to fingertip length. Cascading miniature carnations, yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath completed her ensemble.

THE BRIDE and her father were preceded by the aisle by the quartet of bridesmaids: Mrs. Gerald T. (Phyllis) Winkley, the bride's sister from Saginaw, who was matron of honor; Mrs. Donald (Carol) Tabar of Royal Oak, another sister; Mrs. John (Jill) Leeper of Ypsilanti, sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Gary Boychuck of Belleville.

Mrs. Winkley donned a toe-touching turquoise crepe gown in the empire mode while the others were dressed in olive green crepe. All wore matching veiled Dior bows and carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisy pomps and bronze mums.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Jay Heath of 2085 Harding, Ypsilanti, asked Jerry Goodridge of Milan to be his best man. Groomsmen were John Leeper of Ypsilanti; Carl Hunt of Farmington; and George Puckett from Lincoln Park.

AT THE RECEPTION, which followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Ypsilanti, the 120 guests were greeted by Mrs. Shook in a formal-length royal blue crepe gown trimmed with silver.

The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a royal purple crepe gown with multi-colored braid for accents. Both mothers added cymbidium orchids to their ensemble.

The evening before the wedding, the Heaths entertained at the rehearsal dinner at Lake in the Woods Clubhouse, Ypsilanti.

The newlyweds are now making their home at 3037 Woodland Hills, Ann Arbor where both are employed — the bride at University Hospital as a medical secretary and the groom at the Department of Social Services as office manager.

The new Mrs. Heath was graduated from Lincoln High School and Cleary College where she earned her medical secretary degree. Her husband, an alumnus of Ypsilanti High School and Cleary College, also spent four years with the U.S. Air Force.

Pullen-Wimmer vows read at St. Stephen's

In an early September ceremony at St. Stephen's Catholic Church in New Boston, Shirley A. Wimmer of Portland, Missouri, became the bride of Jack B. Pullen of Belleville.

Both young people are serving with the U.S. Air Force at Kincheloe Air Force Base in Sault Ste. Marie, S. Sgt. Pullen being a Career Field Medical Material Specialist.

The new Mrs. Pullen, who also holds the rank of sergeant, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wimmer of Portland, Missouri. Bellevillites, Mr. and Mrs. S.K. Pullen of 14285 Elwell Road, are parents of the bridegroom.

DOUBLE RING vows were exchanged before the Rev. Alexander Wyrtrall at two o'clock in the afternoon. An approximate 100 guests witnessed the nuptials and later attended the reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her father, Shirley appeared in a toe-touching creation of white lace over bridal satin. The lifted bodice was fashioned with a high notched neckline and full, cuffed bishop sleeves. The gown and the bride's head-dress were made by the bridegroom's mother, the tiered illusion veil being caught to a little cap topped with a double bow in matching satin and lace. Completing her bridal finery was a cascade bouquet of white carnations, yellow roses and fugi mums.

The bride asked her sister, Mrs. Yvonne Adams of Fulton, Missouri, to be her matron of honor. The orange dress she made for the occasion was styled in the empire mode with short, puffed sleeves and floral trim in orange, green and yellow. Her short veil was held by a matching orange bow and she carried a colonial arrangement of orange-tinted carnations and daisies.

THE TRIO OF bridesmaids included Mrs. Stanley (Valerie) Gondek and Sandra Pullen, sisters of the bridegroom from Belleville; and another of the bride's sisters, Elizabeth Wimmer of Portland, Missouri.

Mrs. Pullen made the gowns worn by her daughters and the honor attendant sewed that worn by her sister. Identically styled the dresses were in olive green with orange, green and yellow floral accents. The attendants' headgear and bouquets were also done in matching green.

Four-year old Donna Rae Deska, daughter of the Walt Deskas of Bay City, carried a basket filled with orange and green daisies as she performed as flowergirl. Her little frock and headpiece were fashioned to match the bridesmaids'. Ringbearer was the bride's nephew, four-year old Jerry Lee Wimmer, son of the Gerald Wimmers of Portland, Missouri.

GARY L. WRIGHT of Columbus, Ohio was asked to be best man. The corps of ushers included Stan Gondek of Belleville, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Tom Christian from Massachusetts; Gerry Meade of Belleville; David Marlowe of Ypsilanti; and Gerald D. Wimmer, brother of the bride from Portland, Missouri. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wimmer wore a purple A-line dress with matching purse and shoes. Mrs. Pullen, the bridegroom's mother, donned an off-white, long-sleeved A-line dress with a vest of olive crushed velvet. She, too, added matching accessories. Both mothers were presented with corsages of beige orchids.

Following their reception, the newlyweds left for their honeymoon in Florida, visiting Disney World and Fort Lauderdale, and capping the trip with a cruise to Nassau and Key West, their wedding gift from the bridegroom's parents.

Shirley joined the Air Force shortly after her graduation from South Callaway High School in Mokone, Missouri in 1970. Jack, who graduated from Belleville High in 1967, attended Northern Michigan University before enlisting in the Air Force.

MR. AND MRS. JACK B. PULLEN

MRS. HAROLD B. BELANGER

Belangers select Mackinac Island for honeymoon

Mackinac Island was the honeymoon destination for the newlywed Harold Bruce Belangers who exchanged vows September 16 at Trinity Episcopal Church.

Nancy Lee Weems, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Weems of 11606 Juniper Drive, Belleville, became Mrs. Belanger in a six o'clock ceremony read by the Rev. David Lee. Mr. and Mrs. George Belanger of Petoskey are parents of the bridegroom.

Ray Joslyn, soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Sandra Spencer as he sang "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face."

MR. WEEMS ESCORTED his daughter to the altar. For her wedding she selected a Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and wristpoint sleeves, the full-skirted dress terminating in a six-foot train. As the "something old" in her bridal ensemble, Nancy wore a strand of heirloom pearls from her grandmother.

A matching Juliet crown studded with pearls and rhinestones secured her illusion veil which was cut in mid-back length. Completing her bridal finery was a bouquet of pink baby roses, white miniature carnations, and baby's breath.

Maid of honor, Nancy Carol Busch of Belleville, wore a blue picture hat accented with ivory lace and carried an arrangement of pink roses and baby's breath tied with blue streamers. Her acetate gown was designed with a blue cotton overlay with ivory lace trim as were those worn by the five bridesmaids: Norma Weems, the bride's sister; Bonnie Suliman, Linda Ferguson, and Lisa Ross, all of Belleville; and Denise Jacob, the bride's aunt from Detroit. Their picture hats were in white with blue streamers.

Keenan K. Elkins of Ypsilanti served as best man with James Weems, the bride's brother; Jim Fielder, Rick Nowak, and Mike Villa filling the roles of ushers.

MRS. WEEMS chose for her daughter's wedding a sleeveless formal gown in hot pink, her shoes and handbag being in silver and her corsage containing pink roses and baby's breath.

Among the 250 guests attending the reception at the Union Hall in Ypsilanti was the bridegroom's brother, Dennis Belanger, who came in from Ft. Lauderdale Florida just for the occasion.

Nancy, a 1972 graduate of Belleville High School, is currently employed by the Detroit News in Detroit. Harold attended Washtenaw Community College for two years after graduating from Belleville High in 1967. He is now employed by Stinet Carpeting in Farmington.

For and about Suburban Women

'Home Tour' set for Wayne area

Final plans for a "Home Tour" in Wayne were made at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. James Attwood on Elm St., Wayne. Guests present included local women who have graciously consented to open their homes for the public tour.

They were Mrs. Virgil Krueger, Mrs. Patrick Norton, Mrs. Bud Hillyard, Mrs.

Harold Stein, Mrs. Murray Arthur and Mrs. Leonard Downes. Not present, but also opening their homes to the tour are Mrs. Tom Weyends and Mrs. Murray Millar.

The home tour is sponsored by the First Congregational Church of Wayne, with proceeds earmarked toward the building fund of the new church.

Despite the fact that Wayne doesn't have the 19th century homes to display, such as those included in the Marshall, Mich. tour, a number of fine 20th century homes in Wayne, large and small, old and new, many featuring unique innovations and some newly-decorated or remodeled, planned to appeal to a wide segment of the public, are on the itinerary.

State lotteries: biggest prize

LANSING — If one million Michiganders buy lottery tickets every week, one of them will win $200,000 and another will take home $10,000 for his 50-cent venture, lottery commissioner Gus Harrison said.

Out of that pool of one million, four thousand lucky ticket-holders will win $25 every week, with a chance of hitting it really big later on in a "periodic millionaire drawing" for a $1 million top prize.

The emphasis of the venture, counted on to raise the state $20 million by next July, will be a hard-hitting sales pitch and extremely attractive rewards for playing the odds, Harrison said.

The first drawing will come at least "before Christmas but probably earlier than that," Harrison said.

The commissioner gave the first official description of how the promotional gimmick will work and what prizes will be at a briefing for state legislators last week.

Pledging to make Michigan's drawings the most lucrative in the country, Harrison said the $200,000 top regular bonanza is the largest to be offered anywhere once set up.

He said New Jersey and Pennsylvania, two other states of a handful with public drawings, give only 1,000 and 2,000 prizes respectively on a base of one million participants.

"We have cut the odds in half," Harrison said. "We will look at a daily lottery as soon as it becomes potential and feasible," but added staff experts are not yet sure if that is a workable fixture of the Michigan plan.

Other possible schemes include "losers" drawings, drawings on top of drawings and sale of tickets by subscription, much like one might sign up for a magazine or series of theater tickets.

A bonus for the seller of the $1 million-prize winning ticket may be as much as $10,000, he said, explaining, "We've gotta get these people to sell."

Free lunch program set

Applications for participation in the Van Buren Public School District free lunch program always are accepted for processing, said Irvin Von Destinon, business manager of the school district.

There is no deadline date to the submission of an application, he added.

The Van Buren Public School system serves well-balanced and nutritious lunches every full school day, he said.

Students may purchase a lunch at the school they attend which have operated lunchrooms presently priced as follows:

At elementary schools, 40 cents, at the junior high schools, 50 cents and at Belleville High School, 50 cents.

The National School Lunch Act states that meals meeting established nutritional standards should be served to children unable to pay the full cost for such meals.

The Board of Education of Van Buren Public Schools has adopted a policy to provide free lunches for those who qualify under the state income scale guidelines.

"To date, we have processed 158 applications not counting the duplicates submitted by parents," VonDestinon said. "At present, 172 students have been approved to receive free lunches. The number is subject to increase if more apply."

Children from families whose income level is at or below those listed in the following scale may be eligible to receive free lunches:

Total Family Size	State Scale	Total Family Size	State Scale
1	$2,450	7	$6,760
2	3,200	8	7,400
3	3,960	9	7,970
4	4,720	10	8,540
5	5,420	11	9,120
6	6,130	12	9,700

For each additional family member over 12 add $575.

Income is termed as gross income before deductions for income taxes, social security taxes, insurance premiums, etc.

Income also includes other miscellaneous earnings, social security benefits, dividends, welfare and public assistance payments, unemployment compensation, civilian or military retirement pay or pensions, alimony or child support payments, net royalties, contributions and other cash income.

The school system will consider unusual circumstances such as prolonged illness, death in the family, temporary disability and seasonal unemployment, in determining eligibility, according to Von Destinon.

In order to safeguard their identity, children receiving free lunches will be treated in the same manner as full paying students, VonDestinon said.

United Methodist open house is set

Chelsea United Methodist Home will open its doors from 2 to 4 p.m. to welcome friends and guests to the 25th Annual Open House.

This occasion is sponsored by the Retirement Homes Friends, who will be afforded special recognition, since this date also is the 25th anniversary of that organization.

Community Band, directed by Dr. Conrad Lamb.

A tea will be served in the main dining room, prepared and served by the Retirement Homes Friends.

Belleville couple wins

Among the features will be the newly established Heritage Room and the historical display located there: the Crippen Building, and an arts and crafts display.

Another feature will be a program of music in the court, played by the Franklin

The winners of the All-Terrain Vehicle (ATV) at the recent Belleville Lions Club sponsored ATV races are Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Phillips of 10917 Jackson St., Belleville.

The ATV races were held on Belleville Road just south of Michigan Avenue on Sept. 17.

Clerk honored at luncheon party

Mrs. Erma Jean Payne of 7696 Mida Dr., Belleville, Friday was the honored guest at a resignation luncheon attended by friends and government officials from surrounding communities.

Mrs. Payne, Van Buren Township clerk since April, 1963, submitted her resignation to the township board Sept. 12 on the advice of her physician.

A mother of three grown children and grandmother of six, Mrs. Payne stated that she intends on remaining in the community with her husband, Bill.

Police Chief John R. Willet Sr. of the Van Buren Township Police Department issued a statement of thanks and appreciation in behalf of the police department for the cooperation and assistance received from Mrs. Payne during her years as township clerk.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A strange sort of aspect is in effect that makes you want to do things in a manner that others may resent. Yet, this negative subject is not likely to be vital and misgivings and trepidations can enter into one's thinking. Stick to proven methods.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Although you have a great deal to do, be sure not to disturb others today. Take treatments that will improve your health greatly. Become more active instead of daydreaming.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make sure that you delight others during spare time and add to circle of friends. You can now be of assistance to others. Engage in fun things that are not expensive.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) See what you can do to make your home more charming and delightful, but pay attention to important details that are in good taste. Enjoy the comforts of home with mate tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A good day for handling small matters which have accumulated and are now important. Take right means to gain goodwill of others. Don't be so temperamental in the future.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan how to make your home more charming as well as add to its value, and then talk over with expert how to add to present income. Be diplomatic with an important businessman.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are tempted to engage in something that is risky and which you could regret later, so stick to the tried and true instead. Being careful of your diet is important now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure to remove a stumbling block to your progress instead of continuing to contend with it as you have in the past. Take the right treatments that will improve your health.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Accept a social invitation which could lead to fine things in the future via the meeting of important personalities. Use your own good judgment now instead of relying on a friend.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Show your finest talents to higher-ups and open new doors of opportunity for yourself. Be careful not to talk yourself out of something. Do more listening than talking.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although your new ideas are fine, be sure to study every facet of them or you will not be successful in putting them in operation. You can learn much from new friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can do much now that has been hard for you in the past. You may differ with what mate is saying, but don't argue. A smile smooths everything out. Show that you have wisdom.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't be petty by getting even with an ally who has acted thoughtlessly. Show consideration since this person has been having family trouble. Show that you are a precise person.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those meticulous young people who wants nothing out of place. This is fine, provided the human and religious principles are first taken into consideration, otherwise your progeny will live a lonely life with few friends, and not achieve the fine promise in this chart. Give an opportunity early in life to be with other young children and to learn to be a good sport. Early religious training is a must.

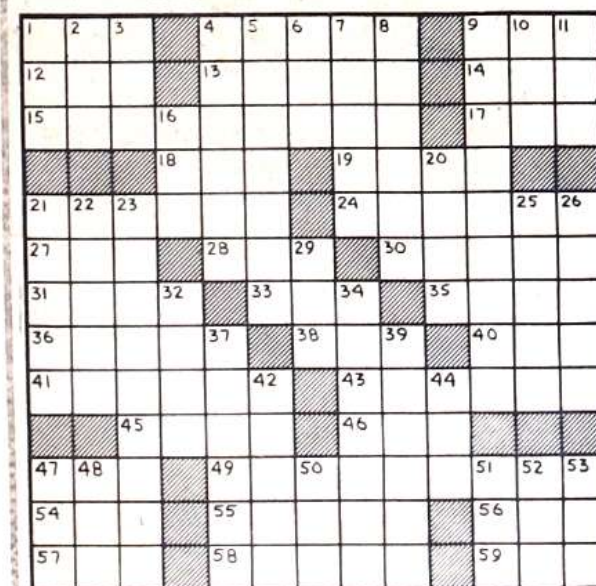

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jim Brown plunges into movie business

By NORMAN GOLDSTEIN

NEW YORK — A quiet strength exudes from every pore of actor Jim Brown. He speaks gently, but forcefully.

It's much the way he played football. He would plow past optimistic would-be tacklers on his way to setting all sorts of college and professional football records, then walk slowly, very slowly, back to the huddle as though he couldn't run another inch. Then he would slam through the line again.

Brown, "Mr. Football" at Syracuse University and with the pro Cleveland Browns, quit the sport while at the top in 1966 and plunged into movies as he does everything else—totally. Starting with "Rio Conchos," he's made about a dozen films in his second career and while he's not quite "Mr. Movies," he has made an impact on the screen.

In town to promote his latest action offering, "Slaughter," Brown reflected on the images of the athlete and the actor.

"I think the athlete has always had a particular place, especially in the American male's viewpoint," he said, relaxing a ready-to-play shape of 6-foot-2, 230 pounds that has been kept trim by a good deal of tennis, basketball and golf—but no football.

"I think movie stars have had a certain kind of superficial popularity, you know, based on an image that was developed. But the athlete has always had a following, you know, that went much deeper. Because I think the American male has always felt that physical combat was something he could identify with or something he could vicariously enjoy."

Whether athlete or actor, to Jim Brown, "It's taking what you have and doing as much with it as you can."

"We all have a level we try to reach...But there's no way to combine the physical and the mental and come out 100."

"I like to do my thing and have it come out my thing. I don't want to be a Shakespearean actor. Not a Calvin Lockhart or another Poirot...I like the hero or anti-hero type."

Brown has played that role in some dozen films now and he feels he's learned a lot about his new field.

"I know more about what's going on, I understand the medium a lot better. I have a more rounded understanding of the total picture."

Brown is more involved in other aspects of movie-making now, beyond acting. "Slaughter" was "a whole thing for me," he said, including a little writing on it.

Despite the current rash—and success—of "black" films, Brown doesn't like to put "Slaughter" in that category.

"The black film," he said, "has no definite definition. It's a title put on 'em when they have a lot of blacks in 'em."

"You do what you want to do. There are special markets and general markets. The general markets are better. You start with your own market, then expand."

"So, you can see where I'm comin' from. To me, everything is exploitation. You use me, I use you for something. So what? You get the financing and do your thing."

His "thing" in "Slaughter," a bloody, brawling mass audience adventure, is the role of superhero and superlover. In the hero role, he takes on, singlehandedly, a South American crime syndicate which has about as much chance as a one-on-one tackler on a Jimmy Brown open field run.

In the role of lover, he makes some play-action passes at Stella Stevens that deserve instant replay. They include some interracial nude bed scenes about which Brown comments: "They don't have the impact they used to."

Early movie slated

The Famous Early Movies Series at the Henry Ford Museum Theater is presenting as its next feature on Sunday a film which became one of the foundations of a now popular type — the western.

The film "The Covered Wagon" made by Famous Players in 1923, was the first of the western spectacles.

"The Covered Wagon" is a pioneering example of a vast film unit on location. Made in natural settings on an impressive scale (the cast of 3,000 extras includes 1,000 Indians brought from reservations in New Mexico, Wyoming and other states), the film still succeeds in telling the story of its three main characters within the vastness of its setting.

Basically, it is the story of a great wagon trek West before the Civil War, but its theme is the conflict between the white man's dream to settle the frontier and the threat this represents to the Indian's way of life.

Among the films many merits is its symbolic photography as shown in shots of a plow which illustrate this conflict and a funeral scene followed closely by the birth of a child depicting the natural balance of human affairs.

"The Covered Wagon" will be shown in the theater at 2 and 4 p.m. on Sunday. This version is with the original Vitaphone sound system, an early attempt at sound which involved the use of effects and music recorded on discs to be played along with the film.

European movie is first in series

Julian Gromer's "Wheel Across Europe" will be the first program of the Wayne-Westland Family YMCA's "Travel and Adventure Series" this Saturday.

Gromer's travelogue on 44 college men bicycling 3,000 miles across Europe will start at 8:15 p.m. in the Wayne Memorial High School Auditorium.

On their trip through France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Austria and Holland, the men visit many of the natural and historical landmarks in Europe.

Saturday also will be the last day for interested area residents to pick up season tickets for the six-part travel and adventure series. Adults can see all six travelogues for $7.50 per person, while children can obtain tickets for $3.75 per child.

Grease Paint... ...and Spotlights

By JAN LAUTH

Have you ever read a book or seen a movie where you weren't sure who the main character was?

In the play "Pillow Talk," which is being put on by the Belleville Community Players, the male lead belongs to a character named Brad Allen, played by Jerry March. However, from the shadows we see the development of a pushy, money-minded, egotistical character named Jonathon portrayed by John Touse.

Jonathon's main concern is to win over the leading lady, Jan Morrow, who is played by Judy March.

The plot thickens when songwriter Brad, and millionaire Jonathon find out they are both working to win the heart of the same lady.

Come and meet these and other characters as the play debuts in early November. Join us in an evening of family pleasure at the Belleville Senior High School Auditorium.

Schoolcraft movie series starts Friday

Films — classics and near classics, foreign and American, recent releases and one produced as early as 1926 — that's what Friday night at the movies is all about this fall at Schoolcraft College.

Films will be shown at 8:30 p.m. in the Liberal Arts Theater, and admission price is free. The series is sponsored by the Cultural and Public Affairs Committee, coordinated by Gordon Wilson and John Kyriacopoulos, Schoolcraft English instructors.

Buster Keaton fans will be particularly interested in the films scheduled for this Friday. A short, "One Week," and a feature length "The General," (from 1926) will be shown. In the short, Buster is a newlywed, and in the other, he's a confederate soldier behind Yankee lines in a stolen train.

The following week, Oct. 13, films from Poland and Yugoslavia will be featured. Ionesco's play, "Rhinoceros," is a short from Poland, while "Love Affair: or the 'Strange Case of the Missing Switchboard Operator,'" is the feature length film. The feature involves myths of sex and the psychology of murder, and is billed as being both charming and poignant.

Two weeks later, on Oct. 27, "How to Raise a Good Child," a short produced in Czechoslovakia, will be shown. The feature that night is from Italy and is called "The Big Deal On Madonna Street." It is a spoof of perfect crime films.

Films have also been scheduled for the Friday nights of Nov. 17 and Dec. 8, to complete the fall semester series. Because of exhibitor rights, the November film will have to remain a surprise. The last film of the semester is "Tokyo Story," a film produced in Japan in 1953, which depicts the generation gap between an elderly couple and their married children. The film series is for everyone — students, staff, and the general public. One word of caution should be mentioned. Seating in the Liberal Arts Theater is very limited (less than 200 seats) and on a "first come" basis.

Chicago to appear at EMU Friday night

"Chicago," a popular rock group, will perform at 8 p.m. Friday in Bowen Field House on the Eastern Michigan University campus. The group, formerly known as the "Big Thing" and "Chicago Transit Authority", formed in Chicago in the late 1960's. Members are Walt Parazaidier, woodwinds;

Terry Kath, guitar; Peter Cetera, bass; Lee Loughnane, trumpet; James Pankow, trombone; Daniel Seraphine, drums and Robert Lamm, piano and vocals.

Don Ellis, band at Clarenceville

Jazz trumpeter and drummer Don Ellis will bring his band to Clarenceville's L.E. Schmidt Auditorium on Saturday, under auspices of the Schoolcraft College Cultural Affairs program.

Last year's Ellis concert, which was sponsored by the Clarenceville Entertainment Series, was a complete sell out with standing room only. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium, located at 20155 Middlebelt Rd., Livonia.

The band with a "different sound" Ellis and his group made their debut at the 1966 Monterey (Calif.) Jazz Festival and instantly became nationally known.

Ellis' band numbers 21 pieces and includes five trumpets, three trombones, five reeds, piano, four drummers and three basses. Outstanding soloist in the band is Ellis himself. He uses a specially made, four-valve trumpet that enables him to play quarter tones.

Blending jazz, rock and classical influences, "Chicago" has produced several best-selling records including "Beginnings", "I'm a Man", "Color my World" and "Saturday in the Park". Their latest album, "Chicago 5", currently tops national charts.

Tickets may be purchased at the McKenny Union Ticket Office on the EMU campus.

Good window insulation helps to conserve fuel

How would you like to help with national conservation efforts, have a more comfortable home, and save money in the bargain?

As tall an order as it seems, homeowners can accomplish these worthwhile ends — on a daily basis and in their own homes. What's required are: an awareness of the effect that "normal house habits" can have on total ecology, and the willingness to change those habits, when necessary, for better ones.

For example: energy of all kinds is expected to be in short supply if the nation doesn't tighten its fuel belt and stop wasting electricity, oil, gas and coal.

Utilities urge people to turn off lights, air conditioning and radiators when not needed, and to keep thermostats low whenever possible. As part of the effort to conserve fuel by using it more judiciously, proper home insulation and good insulation practices are also suggested.

One of the principal recommendations is for windows and doors which offer superior insulating capabilities. The specifications are usually for weatherstripped wood doors and wood windows and weatherstripping and insulating glass.

In fact, construction standards for full thermal insulation in electrically-heated homes specify sash and frame materials "that provide no continuous metallic path from the inside structure to the outside air," efficient weatherstripping and double-glazing.

Many builders meet the requirements by using ponderosa pine windows with insulating glass.

The ability of proper windows to conserve fuel — and fuel costs — by reducing heat loss, is documented by scientific engineering studies. They show that:

—Wood sash is a poor conductor of heat and, therefore, an excellent natural insulator. In comparative tests with other sash and frame materials, wood rated a stunning 1,770 times better insulator than metal.

—Weatherstripping that's properly applied can, in an average five-room house, seal out air so effectively that fuel costs can be cut by almost one fourth. Using windows with improperly applied weatherstripping (or none at all) is comparable to having "holes" in the wall the size of three building blocks.

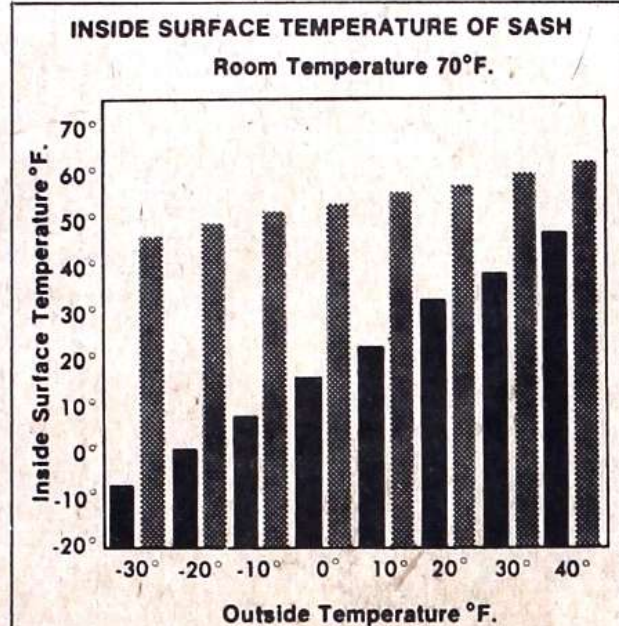

—Insulating glass, which is actually two panes of glass sealed together at the edges to create an "insulating" layer of air between, eliminates the need for storm sash in all but the most severe climates. There, triple-glazing (storm sash over insulating glass) is suggested.

When insulating glass is used in weatherstripped wood sash windows, it becomes part of a "triple threat" safeguard against expensive, wasteful heat loss. Because such windows maintain a stable temperature (instead of reacting readily to interior and exterior changes) they also provide effective protection against condensation.

To test these benefits, wood and metal sash windows of the same size were exposed to the same temperature conditions. With an outdoor temperature of 20 degrees, interior wood sash registered a warm 59 degrees; metal a chilly 32 degrees.

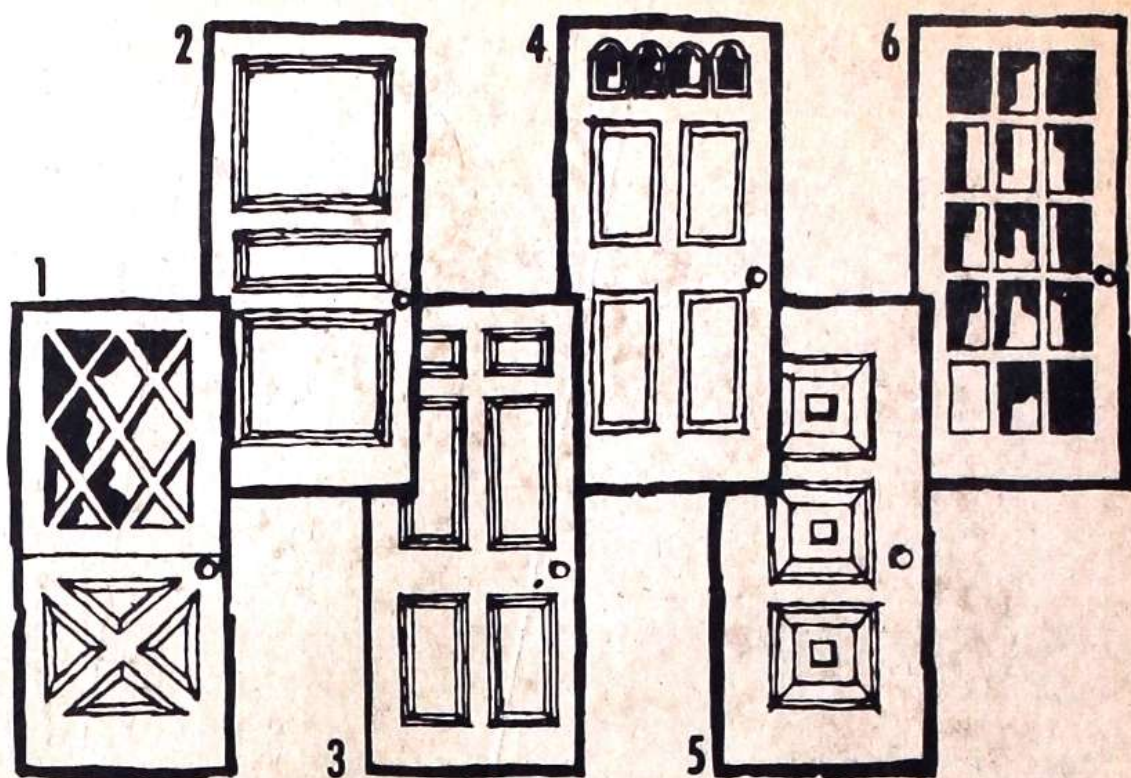

A costly 22 percent more heat was lost through metal windows with an 80 per cent glass area than through wood sash windows of the same size.

And, while weatherstripped wood windows with insulating glass stayed free of condensation in outdoor temperatures of 30 below zero, condensation formed on metal sash windows in temperatures of 20 above.

GOOD INSULATOR — Wood is a good insulator. Even in zero weather, inside of wood sash is a warm 54 degrees; metal without thermal barrier, a cold 18 degrees.

VARIETY OF DOOR STYLES — The wide variety of ponderosa pine panel door styles makes it easy to select just the right one to reflect home decor. Shown here are: one, colonial St. Andrew's cross; two, traditional three-panel; three, colonial Cross-and-Bible; four, Victorian panel with cathedral lights; five contemporary three-panel, and six, multi-light French door. The doors are available in stock sizes at local lumber dealers.

Door styles may hint at decor behind them

When you look behind a wood panel door, you've a good idea what you'll find. Stylewise, the door itself is often a clue to the rooms beyond.

Panel doors of ponderosa pine, available in a wide variety of styles, can carry a design theme from the front door through the house. Or, they can keynote the individual decor of a particular room.

Wood doors with multi-panels and glass panes, for example, complement the rich design of French provincial furnishings. Three-, four-, and eight-panel doors have the strong, uncluttered lines of traditional decor. Contemporary panel doors — like contemporary architecture — tend toward clean, classic lines, with large, deepy-grooved panels or many small distinctive ones. There are also eight-panel Florentine doors and 15-panel Tudor doors.

All styles duplicate the handcrafted details of original doors of the period. Most styles are available in both interior and entrance doors of ponderosa pine at local lumber and building supply dealers.

Authentic detailing is one reason for the popularity of Colonial-style wood panel doors. Styles include: Cross-and-Bible (four upper panels resemble a cross, two lower panels depict an open book); St. Andrew's Cross (an x-shaped cross in the bottom half and panels or glass panes above), and the friendly Dutch door — one half of which always seems open to the world.

Increasing use of Mediterranean doors of ponderosa pine reflects an interest in Spanish architecture and ornate furnishings. The doors are multi-paneled, often with elaborate carvings, rich embossing and exotic-looking grillwork.

Painted to blend or contrast with interior decor, or stained to enhance the natural wood grain, panel doors set a dramatic tone for the home interior. Their beauty and "appropriateness" make them as much a part of the room as the furniture.

Entrance doors — focal points of the home's exterior — come as complete "packages," with sidelights, overhead fanlights, columns, pediments and other decorative features to suit the door style. Double entries — duplicate panel doors — are twice as effective.

Update dining area

When the family is growing or guests are gathering, the dining area may require updating to handle expanded needs. A popular innovation is a wall-length, built-in buffet-storage cabinet.

Consolidating the serving and storage units opens floor space for extra seating, provides room for more linens, china, silver and serving pieces, and its counter top makes serving a large group relatively simple.

Built of smooth, close-grained wood that easily takes any paint or stain, it may be finished to complement any decorating scheme.

Shelves added to the wall above display family treasures or collections for a warm, intimate accent to food and conversation.

Modern doors blend

Want to be a quick-change artist and win applause for front door beauty? Consider wood combination storm and screen doors.

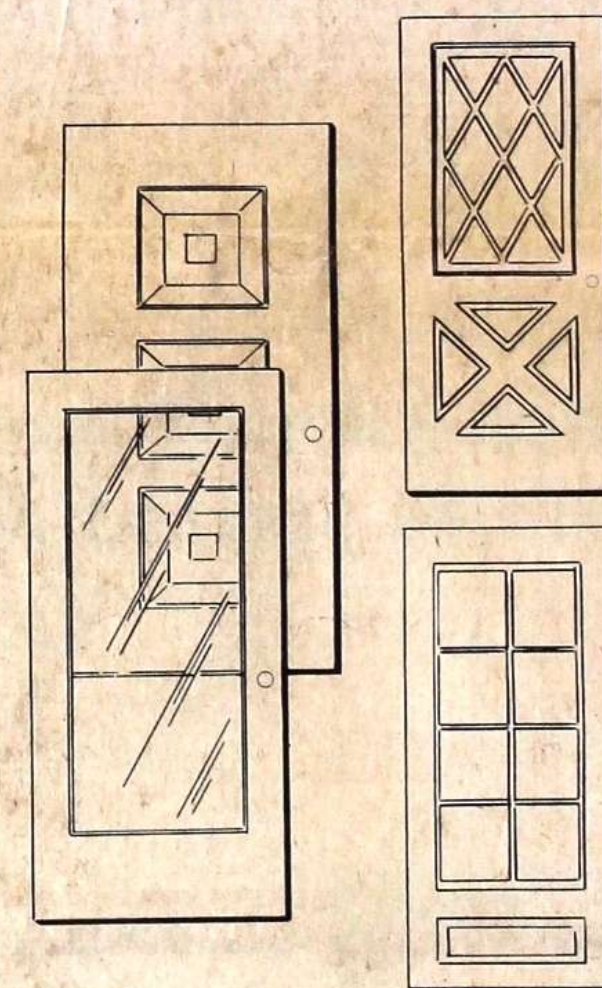

These are modern doors of ponderosa pine fitted with interchangeable glass and screen panels.

Unlike old-fashioned metallic storm doors, which tend to detract from or hide the front entrance, wood combination doors are designed to blend with wood panel entries.

They can even be painted or stained to match. Some styles feature large glass panels to give full views of the front door.

Available at lumber dealers in stock sizes and a variety of styles, wood combination doors require virtually no maintenance. They are permanently installed and preservative-treated against weather abuse.

A quick change of panels adjusts the door to the season.

SHOW-OFF COMBINATIONS — Combination storm and screen doors of ponderosa pine (with interchangeable glass and screen panels) give a home elegance as well as protection. They are designed to match and "show off" wood panel entry doors.

Area residents will be quizzed

Questions on consumer buying and home improvement expectations will be asked by representatives of the Bureau of the Census in this area during early October, according to Robert G. McWilliam, director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center, Detroit.

The survey is taken four times yearly as part of a nationwide effort to guide governmental agencies in developing programs based on consumer spending patterns.

A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car, or major household appliances during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items.

Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs made during the last three months.

The July, 1972 survey indicated no significant change from earlier plans this year to buy new cars or houses. Expectations to buy major household items were somewhat improved, but the proportion of homeowners planning to make home improvements remained unchanged.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential by law and will be published only in the form of statistical totals.

In 1937, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Schuler — David and Dorothy, who were students at the Moody Bible Institute — saw the need for a church in the neighborhood.

After making a canvas, a Sunday School was started in the Schuler's home, which later became Berean Baptist Church.

The new sanctuary will be dedicated in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schuler and a plaque will be placed in the foyer of the new building.

The services on dedication day are as follows:

Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. with Dr. Robert L. Summer of Brownsburg, Indiana, an evangelist, as speaker.

Dedication services will begin at 2:30 p.m. and evening services at 7 p.m.

Hardy: 'Heights our biggest test'

Romulus continues on

It was close, too close for Coach Bill Hardy's comfort. But a reverse turned the tide for Romulus and preserved the Eagles' winning streak at Willow Run Friday night.

Coming from behind twice, Romulus salvaged a 15-14 victory to remain undefeated in three starts this season.

Trailing 14-8 with less than six minutes to play, Romulus' Gerald McWhorter's scampered 14-yards on a reverse for a touchdown to tie the score, then Daryl Gooden came through with the kick that eventually sealed the victory.

"We hadn't tried the reverse all evening," said Hardy who hurdled another obstacle en route to his goal — an unbeaten season. "We kept this play in case we needed it and the only time we ran it, it worked for a touchdown."

Willow Run had grabbed the lead in the first quarter when the Flyers managed to tackle quarterback Virgil Smith at the Eagle 20-yard line after a bad snap from center and set up that miscue for a TD. Romulus tied up the score in the third when Bradley Smith dashed off tackle and went 11 yards for a touchdown. Brother Virgil accounted for the two-point conversion.

However, before the end of that quarter, Willow Run was again on the scoreboard. The hosts took a 14-8 lead into the final stanza.

"We had numerous opportunities to score," said Hardy, "in fact the first time we got our hands on the ball we tried a pass and our receiver was all alone in the end zone and dropped it." Earl Champagne recovered a Willow Run fumble after the opening kickoff, giving the Eagles possession of the ball on the Flyers' 30-yard line. Smith went into the air and his receivers let on-the-target aerials skip past them.

Romulus handed over the ball to their hosts on the 20-yard line.

"It was the first time we had played under the lights," explained Hardy. "This could have had something to do with it."

The Eagles missed another solid chance to put six points on the scoreboard when halfback Rudy Williams picked off a Willow Run pass on the host's 45-yard line. With

Smith and McWhorter's rushes, Romulus got to the Flyers' 22 yard line where they again handed the ball over on downs.

After Willow Run capitalized on Romulus' poor snap which they turned into a go-ahead touchdown, Romulus came right back and strung together a 65-yard drive in the second quarter that left them 10-yards shy of the goal.

The Flyers almost broke open the game in that quarter when they managed to blitz their way to the Romulus goal line where they fumbled and Williams recovered in the end zone.

After some halftime adjustments, Romulus came back in the third quarter and in its first series of plays put the tying points on the scoreboard. With 3:52 on the clock, Smith scored the initial touchdown and his brother went off tackle for the conversion which climaxed a 40-yard drive. A 22-yard pass reception from Smith to McWhorter kept the drive going.

Willow Run however intercepted an errant aerial at the Eagles' 30-yard line that set up their second TD. It was the first interception thrown by the Romulus quarterback. The Flyers later tallied from the 18.

With eight minutes left Romulus regrouped and put to good use an onside kick that backfired against the Flyers. Hollis got the ball on his own 45 yards line and rushed it back 25-yards to the Willow Run 30.

Then, five plays later Romulus startled the host with the reverse that gave McWhorter's a touchdown and made it a new ball game. McWhorter broke a couple of tackles and went 14 yards into the end zone. Gooden came through with the point after.

"I will have to say this that our defense kept us in the game until our offense got untracked," said Hardy. "Then, in that fourth quarter with three minutes to go it was a fourth down and three to go situation and Marvin Williams came through and tossed their quarterback for a three yard loss. That did it."

Hardy said his two linebackers - Marvin Williams and Gooden are among the finest in the state.

"They're tremendous athletes and I wouldn't trade these two for anyone." He also commended the defensive play of halfbacks Ron Kersey and Rudy Williams.

"Our entire offensive line blew people out of there in the second half," said Hardy, "and I don't know what we would have done without our offensive coordinator Steve Reese. Reese has designed outstanding game plans for us these past weeks and he's been able to make the adjustments, like against Willow Run, that enabled us to rally back and win."

McWhorter's 88 yards on nine rushes and Hollis' 62 via seven attempts accounted for most of the Eagles' ground gains. Bradley Smith tried six times and picked up 46 yards.

Though he only completed two of 18 passes, Virgil Smith couldn't be blamed for the poor statistical showing in that department. His

SHOW ME THE WAY — Romulus' halfback Bradley Smith (42) uses Ken Szarc (75) for interference as he scampers around end and goes into the end zone for the Eagles' third quarter touchdown. Coach Bill Hardy's Eagles rallied to a 15-14 victory which kept their three-game winning streak intact.

Little League grid mother is angry

By TOM MOORADIAN

The woman was obviously angry. She was the mother of a Belleville little league football player and her son had begged her to come out and watch him play. She did and regretted it.

"I was so mad when I got home I could have cried," she said. "I was supposed to see a football game but what I actually saw was a fist fight between grown men who supposedly were the men that should set examples for the little leaguers."

The woman said that a fight broke out between Northville Little League coaches and one of the Belleville fans and that "it was disgusting."

"I want my child to belong and play football with other kids. I want him to understand that there is a lot of discipline involved in being an athlete and what do I see? A couple of idiots who are supposed to be coaches letting their emotions get away from them and knocking another person's senses out."

"If this is 'the example' these people are going to teach, then let them have it," she said.

You have to agree that if the story is true — and we don't doubt it — that someone should take action against the coaches. Yes, I did say coaches. Not the fan.

A fan is a fan is a fan and he can be intelligent and nauseating, but he's still a fan.

Coaches are persons who young players look up to — they forge the positive or negative imagery of their charges. And when a eight, nine, ten, 11-year-old sees his coach haul off and belt a fan or hears obscenities from a person who is supposedly there to guide him, then it's obvious the youngster can also use the coach's actions as an excuse to do the same.

And Belleville Little Leaguers should get together with their counterparts in Northville "to clean house."

Then, there was that "ancient" theory formulated on American campuses that freshmen were too inexperienced, "green" to handle varsity football chores in colleges and universities.

Of course, that theory is being shattered thanks to a recent NCAA rule permitting freshmen to compete on varsity teams.

And one of the persons who is helping to shatter that image is none other than Belleville's Keith Simons. Simons, an all-area griddler, accepted a "full-ride" scholarship to Minnesota and he quickly earned varsity status. He saw action as a defensive tackle in the Gophers' opener against Indiana and last week against Colorado.

There are a flock of other freshmen who have taken jobs away from their upperclassmen. Some of the notables are Notre Dame's 6-foot-4, 265-pound Steven Niehaus, a defensive tackle; Iowa's frosh linebacker, Andre Jackson, Northwestern's fullback, Greg Boykin, Indiana's Quinn Buckner and Wisconsin's Dennis Lick, an offensive tackle, and many more.

What's this all mean? It could mean a lot, or nothing. One frosh may be "one helluva player" to be able to take a job away from his senior counterpart, or circumstances on a particular team are such that the job is vacant because of injuries.

However, there is a general agreement that today's frosh is more talented than his counterpart of a decade ago.

"I feel the NCAA rule is excellent, because if an incoming freshman is talented enough he should play on the varsity," said Pittsburgh's Carl DePasqua, "as for the people who worry about the academic pressures thus applied to a freshman, I say that's hogwash."

"Kids coming into college have much better tutoring and faculty guidance now than when I played as a defensive freshman on the Pittsburgh varsity, pointed out DePasqua.

There is another side to the story, of course.

BACKLASH — Ready to run back a punt is Romulus' Michael Darden who provided key yardage in Friday's 15-14 triumph over Willow Run. The Eagles go after their fourth straight win Friday at 3:30 p.m. when a highly-touted Muskegon Heights team will be in town.

PROTECTIVE CUSTODY — While teammates George Sedlacek (89) and El. 'Champagne' (70) set up the defense, Romulus halfback Jerry McWhorter (24) eyes his receivers in one of his rare passing attempts. It was McWhorter's fourth quarter touchdown sprint that enabled the Eagles to turn back a pesky Willow Run team 15-14. The Eagles will shoot for No. 4 victory Friday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. when they host Muskegon Heights.

WW meet date is set

With at least five teams undefeated in their respective leagues, the 1972 Western Wayne Invitational Cross Country Meet promises again to be a torrid event.

The meet, co-sponsored by The Daily Eagle and The Associated Newspapers will be conducted on Saturday, Oct. 14 beginning at 10 a.m. at Wayne Memorial High School. Doug Garrett, the first-year cross country Zebra coach, is the meet director.

Pitted in Heat One are defending Suburban 8 champ, Belleville who, under first year Coach Bob Boudreau, is undefeated in conference competition this year. Along with the Tigers are always tough Livonia Franklin, which also is unbeaten in the Northwest Suburban Conference, Garden City East, Wayne Memorial, Dearborn Heights Annapolis and Cherry Hill.

Over in Heat Two, undefeated John Glenn has to be the pre-invitational favorite as Coach Jerry Szukaitis' Rockets have shaped up into one of the best squads in the area. However, undefeated Garden City West, leading the Tri-River League presently, and Livonia Churchill, the team to catch in the Western 6 Conference also must be given serious consideration to win it all.

Taylor Kennedy and Taylor Center, Romulus and Dearborn Heights Crestwood round out the field.

Tuning up for the invitational Belleville stomped Plymouth 50-15 after dumping Dearborn Edsel Ford earlier in the week 21-34 to remain "perfect" in the sophomore league.

Tiger runners took the first eight places against Plymouth and Chris Palnau (15:42) leading the way. Soph Randy Block (16:07), John Cicotte (16:08), Mark Davis, Dave Palnau, Dan Tishma, Tom Kos and Charles Greca followed in that order.

Chris Palnau and Edsel's Brian Wetmore dueled most of the way but Palnau crossed the finish line in 16:43, just three-tenths of a second before the T-Bird harrier. In third place was Belleville's Block (17:12) while Davis and Dave Palnau were fourth and sixth, respectively, with 17:22 and 17:52 clockings.

Charles Greca also emerged in the top five for the first time for the Belleville team.

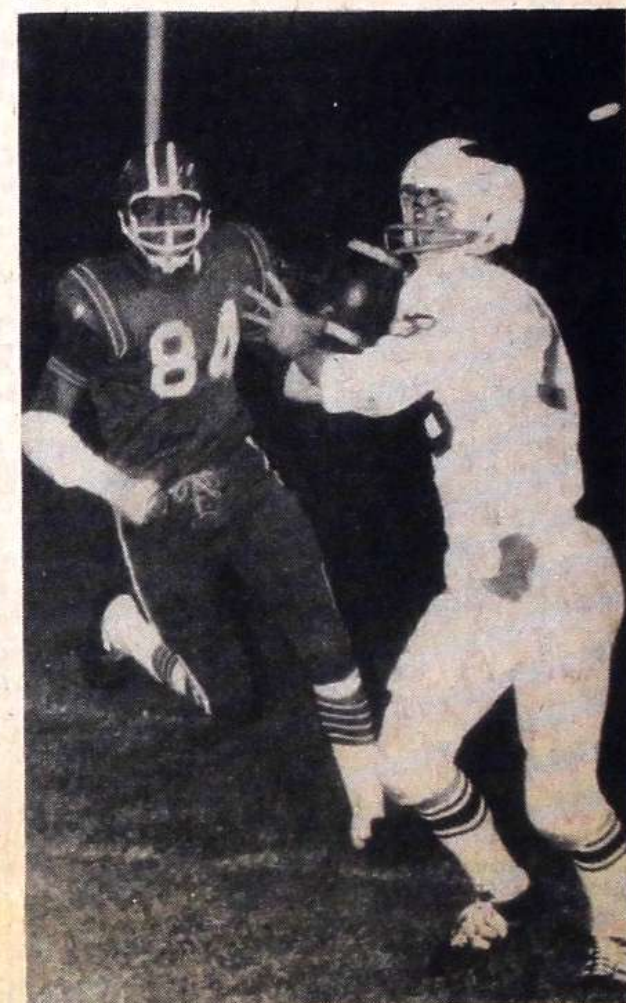

Romulus harriers are wooing victory and coming close to it. Coach Al Wilker-son's Eagles dropped their second close decision in a week when Ypsilanti managed to pull out a 26-29 decision.

The battle for first place was a close one between Romulus No. 1 man, John Trump, and Ypsi's Jeff Carter. Trump managed to out-kick his rival just as he crossed the finish line as both runners were clocked in the identical times of 16:23.

Romulus was fourth and sixth with Angelo Sandusky (17:06) and Connie Hughes while Aldon Butler and Don Richmond were eighth and tenth for the Eagles who carried an 0-3 into last night's duel with Dearborn Heights Crestwood.

IN A HURRY — With little time to spare Romulus senior quarterback Virgil Smith (white jersey) grabs for the ball in an attempt to get out of the way of impending disaster in the form of a Willow Run tackler. Smith didn't get too far though on this play as he was caught behind the line of scrimmage, but the Eagle QB managed to engineer an important 15-14 victory over their hosts.

Recreation sets winter swim program hour

The adult swimming instructional class for Session One of the Van Buren Township's winter recreational program has been cancelled, William A. Loyd, director, announced Monday.

The swimming class has been replaced with open family swimming. Swimming will start at 8:15 p.m. instead of 7:15 p.m., as previously announced, at Belleville High School pool.

The winter recreational program, sponsored by the Van Buren Township Recreation Department in cooperation with the Van Buren Public School District, is divided into three sessions. Session One was to begin last Monday. Session Two will begin Jan. 8 and Session Three will start March 19.

Loyd also announced that the small engine repair course being conducted at the South Junior High School, Belleville, is still open for applicants.

For further information call Loyd at 697-9169 or contact the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

Jacques D. Wimpfheimer, president of the Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association will be played in Romulus' new dual Spectrum Arena, located at 8820 Inkster Rd., Romulus she said.

Pucksters, it's time to register

The Southwestern Wayne County Amateur Hockey Association is now taking registrations for the upcoming hockey season which gets under way the second week of November.

Registrations can be made by calling Mrs. Delphone Dudick at 697-7303. Persons between the ages of 12 to 18 are eligible to apply for registration, Mrs. Dudick said.

The 1972-73 hockey games will be played in Romulus' new dual Spectrum Arena, located at 8820 Inkster Rd., Romulus she said.

Romulus

Romulus will come home Friday afternoon after two games on the road. The Eagles will take on Muskegon Heights which, though sporting an 0-3 record, is considered an outstanding ball club.

Their record is really deceptive," said Hardy, "they have played some of the top-ranked teams in the state this season and that's why they're 0-3. They have a lot of speed and a real fine fullback and the teams they field out that way are usually real big.

"So we're going to have to be ready for them and this is our biggest test, believe me."

Huron

aside from these performances it was a dismal day for Huron fans.

Huron managed to pick up a mere 60 yards from its rushing game.

And the Chiefs have the unenviable task Friday night of stopping the defending and undefeated champ, Tecumseh, which is well on its way to capturing its second straight conference championship.

Cougar varsity stops Ypsi, 22-20

The Belleville Cougars varsity team raised its Western Suburban Junior Football League record to 3-1 Saturday when it defeated the Huron Braves of Ypsilanti, 22-20.

The Cougars did not fare as well in the two other games with the Braves.

The Ypsilanti team won the junior varsity game, 18-0, and the freshman contest, 14-0.

The Cougar junior varsity is now 0-3-1 for the season while the freshmen are 0-4.

Running back Herbert Coats and quarterback Brian Ralls led the Cougar varsity to its victory. The loss was the first in four games for the Braves.

Coats scored the Cougars' first touchdown on a 34-yard run and also ran for two conversions.

Ralls threw a 42-yard touchdown pass to Mark Cornett and also ran 12 yards for a score.

The Cougar linemen also performed well.

Among the top players in the line were Don Walls, Pat Anguilm, Stan Johnson, Dave Similo, Tom Memering, and Art Burger.

All three Cougar teams will travel to Garden City next Saturday for games with the Garden City Tigers.

The first game will start at 1:30 p.m.

Sports meridian

There are some who advocate the philosophy "that the frosh should be given time to get his feet wet on the campus before hurling him onto the gridiron."

In one unique case, a freshman, Don Taylor of Bowling Green, was kicking field goals before even attending his first class. (It was Taylor's three-pointer that upset Purdue, 17-14, if you recall.)

Whether it is good policy to let the frosh compete on the varsity level or give him time to condition himself to the college scene, only time will tell.

But time has a peculiar way of blurring the past.

PCHA approves building engineer

The Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) last week unanimously appointed E. Dean Armstrong of Royal Oak as architectural engineer for the authority at a salary of $24,000 per year.

He is replacing Herbert E. Schlesinger who had served as consulting engineer for PCHA since 1967. Schlesinger announced his retirement this summer.

E. DEAN ARMSTRONG

As architectural engineer, Armstrong will guide and advise the authority on building program goals; consult with the executive director on all matters relevant to building and modernizing; perform routine inspections of PCHA facilities in order to assure that proper maintenance programs are being conducted, and attend board meetings upon request of the executive director.

Armstrong also will act as a liaison between the authority, architects, engineers, contractors and material and equipment suppliers.

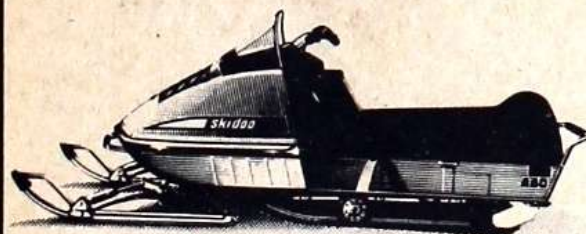

The 52-year-old Armstrong brings to his new position an excellent record in the architectural and project management fields, according to the Authority.

Presently associated with Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield, he was that firm's liaison with architects, contractors and engineers on the recently completed headquarters building. This was a $36 million project which through Armstrong's supervision was completed in the intended time frame and budget estimates.

He obtained his bachelor of architecture degree from the University of Michigan in 1956. Prior to completing his schooling he had served as a military pilot with the United States Air Force from 1943 to 1945.

Girl Scouts appoint two area residents

Two Belleville area residents have been named to the public relations committee of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Mrs. George LaMothe of 8031 Belleville Rd., and Miss Cheryl Thompson of 305 High St. will work with the 10-member group, which recommends public relations goals for the council.

The organization administers the Girl Scout program for 12,500 scouts in Western Wayne County, northern Monroe, Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

According to committee chairman Wendell R. Lyons of Ann Arbor, each committee member represents a particular public served by the council. Mrs. LaMothe will speak for troop leaders. She has served as a Brownie leader in Westland for four years, assistant leader for Belleville Troop 487 for one of four Girl Scouts, Kim, 12; Kathy, 11; Patti, 10; and Toni, 7.

As an active senior scout, Miss Thompson represents the girl members themselves. A member of troop 345 in Romulus, she has been a scout for the last eight years in Belleville Girl Scouts. Last summer she attended a Girl Scout national conference on public relations in Peoria, Ill.

"The Girl Scouts have always tried hard to be sensitive and responsive to the needs of the communities and the public they serve," Lyons said Monday. "We hope that the public relations committee will help our council achieve this goal more efficiently and effectively in the future," he added.

4-H structure changed

The Wayne County 4-H Program will alter its structure to provide for more community participation by way of developmental committees.

"We feel this structure offers several advantages over other types of county 4-H structures," said Douglas Maddex and Ronald Smoker, 4-H youth agents.

"It allows every 4-H member, leader and parent to have a say in the future of the 4-H program through serving on a developmental committee of their choice."

The agents said the new program structure will add flexibility in program offerings as well as allow for more committees when needed.

The new structure will go into operation Jan. 1, 1973. Until then, existing committees will continue to operate.

National 4-H Week celebrated

Five million 4-H'ers and a half million volunteer leaders, all over the country, will be celebrating 1972 National 4-H Week this week.

National 4-H Week is a time for re-evaluation among 4-H'ers, and their leaders. The theme of this year's National 4-H Week, "A New Day - A New Way", denoted a spirit that will help 4-H'ers "to make the best better" in new and different ways to meet the challenges of the new day of the 70's.

There's a new spirit in 4-H today. A spirit of pioneering, just like the men and women who worked with 4-H, in its early days after the turn of the century.

Then 4-H was centered around farm related activities, such as canning, corn growing and poultry raising, in a few Southern Midwestern states.

Today, coordinated by the Cooperative Extension Service, and aided by corporations, businesses and foundations through the National 4-H Service Committee, 4-H has spread into all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam and in 85 countries around the world.

4-H members still participate in the traditional programs like clothing, food-nutrition, agriculture, livestock and crop production.

But many traditional programs have been updated and new programs created so that members can deal with the new day of the 1970's, in new ways — ways that appeal to them and that get them involved.

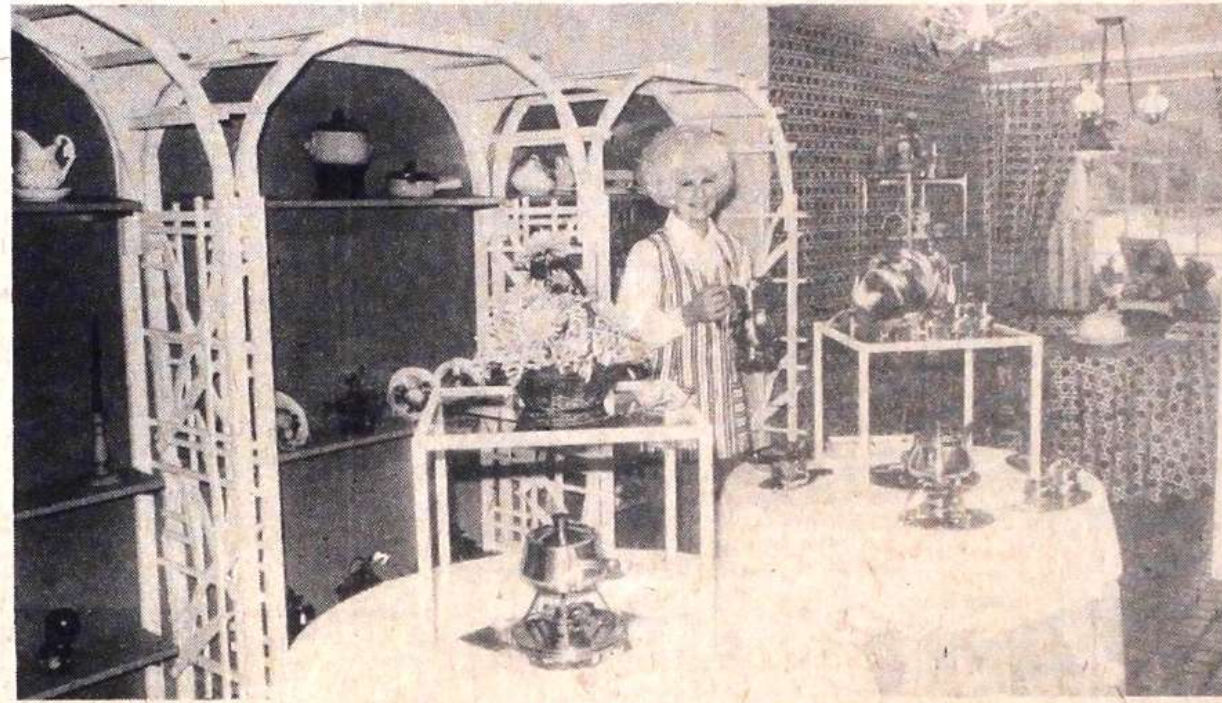

Young people also use the skills they acquire through 4-H public speaking, photography, demonstrating and leadership — to help their communities solve problems.

Faust questionnaire reveals stands on issues

Residents of the 13th State Senatorial District may disagree on some issues facing the Michigan legislature, but when it comes to heavy campaign spending, most are in total accord: expenses should be curbed.

Of some 16,000 persons responding to a poll conducted by Sen. William Faust (D-Westland), 97 per cent indicated that they feel a ceiling should be established for campaign expenditures for state offices and legislative seats.

"On only two other issues were voters so united in their opinions," said Faust. "Ninety-three per cent of the male respondents and 94 per cent of the female respondents did not favor the busing of school children across district lines to provide racial balance in schools."

A whopping 94 per cent of the female respondents and 95 per cent of the male respondents support the licensing and regulation of property management companies.

Voters were split in their answers to several other questions posed in the poll.

A ban on the construction of five additional nuclear power plants in Michigan, as proposed by the Atomic Energy Commission, was favored by 50 per cent of the men and 49 per cent of the women.

Legislation increasing the amount of deposit on returnable bottles would bring a frown to the faces of 49 per cent of the women and 48 per cent of the men, but most respondents favored a ban on non-returnable beverage containers as an environmental protection measure.

Although the poll - containing some 34 questions dealing with education, revenue, drugs, consumer protection, the environment, law, elections and miscellaneous issues - was taken last spring, publication of the results was impossible at an earlier date because of the time needed to tabulate the record number of responses.

"I am indebted to the students at Wayne Memorial High and John Glenn for helping me tabulate responses related to education and drugs," said Faust.

While the majority of respondents felt that voters registration should be extended from two years to four years, fewer than 40 per cent felt that voter registration should be permanent.

As one Taylor resident wrote, "If a person can't get out and vote every election, they shouldn't be allowed to vote."

The legalization of off-track betting and bingo and the creation of a state lottery were heavily favored and a greater percentage of women than men favored each of the three forms of gambling.

Strong supporters of consumer protection legislation, most of the respondents voted "yes" on no-fault car insurance, a toll free line to the Michigan Consumers' Council, state licensing and regulation of collection agencies and legislation requiring stores to unit price all items they stock.

Only 47 per cent of the men responding and 34 per cent of the women favored restrictions on the use of state parks and recreational facilities for non-Michigan residents. One voter, however, urges Faust to "keep Michigan parks for Michigan people."

Less than 40 per cent felt that students should be permitted to serve on governing boards of state supported colleges and universities, but most agreed that —property taxes should be eliminated as means of financing schools;

—schools should be operated year-round with children attending three of the four quarters;

—metal studded tires should be banned;

—senior citizens and disabled or handicapped persons should be allowed to receive prescriptions by mail.

Faust said he believes the fact that some 16,000 people took the time to answer the questionnaire proves "people do care about government and are well aware of the issues."

"Personally, I'm grateful for such awareness, even though it makes my job a much more difficult one because awareness often gives birth to a great diversity of opinions, such as illustrated in the responses to my questionnaire. Thus, on few issues is there an absolute right way to vote," said Faust.

"Still, the answers to this questionnaire have and will be very helpful to me in representing the best interests of my constituents. For that, I'd like to thank those who participated for caring."

Crusade set

Dwight and Linda Richardson of Cambridge, Ohio, serving as national evangelists with the organization - "A Fishers of Men Crusade," will speak and sing.

While traveling nationwide, this duo share their testimony through the media of television, radio, high school assemblies and personal witnessing teams.

Mt. Pleasant students plan Washington trip

Editor's Note: The following is the third of a series of weekly articles submitted by teachers at the Mt. Pleasant Elementary School in Romulus. This week's article was submitted by Mrs. Jan Behymer who teaches the fifth grade at the school.

BY MRS. JAN BEHYMER

The Mt. Pleasant fifth grades, which now include several fifth grade children from Harrison and Cory Elementary Schools, are planning a trip to Washington, D.C. in May. The trip will follow a spring teaching unit on the nation's capital. It looks like a good percentage of the children will be going.

There will be many money earning projects during the school year that will help the children pay for a good part of the trip.

Phillip Krither, a volunteer from the Ecology Center in Ann Arbor, came to speak on ecology to the class Sept. 23.

He followed up an ecology unit taught in the class and presented some very interesting ecology facts.

He told the class of many helpful ways that the children could directly help in solving pollution problems.

For probation officers

Court to begin drive

Immediately upon taking the bench at the 34th District Court, Judge James B. Stone saw the necessity of establishing an effective probation program.

With the nucleus of one part-time probation officer and a strong desire to see that the needs of the community were met, Judge Stone began putting together a volunteer probation department.

Judge Stone assumed the bench of the 34th District Court in April, 1969, on appointment from Gov. William Milliken.

The court's jurisdiction embraces the cities of Belleville and Romulus, and the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren.

The most important element for the successful operation of any probation department is probation officers. With that fact in mind, and the knowledge that the people of the 34th District would rise to meet the challenge, Judge Stone started on a program of speaking engagements, public appearances and private meetings to recruit the much-needed manpower.

From these beginnings in early 1969, the probation department in the 34th Judicial District has grown from the one part-time officer supervising eight or ten probationers to a full scale volunteer probation program consisting of 21 citizen officers, all of whom are graduates of the volunteer probation officer (VPO) training, overseeing the rehabilitation of 157 probationers.

As with many other successful programs, the demand for services soon outgrows the supply of people willing to provide those services. As a result, the 34th District Court is again starting a drive to recruit additional officers.

The requirements are few, according to Stone. You need only have a desire to serve your community to qualify as a volunteer probation officer. The court has access to a training program funded by the U.S. Government that will provide the technical background vital to probation work.

Male and female applicants who can spare three hours of their time each week for 15 weeks to attend the training sessions at Madonna College are asked to contact the court.

In addition to the good feeling of being helpful to others, completion of the training course offers four hours of under graduate credit in sociology from Madonna College, Stone said.

When the training is completed, Judge Stone said he can guarantee a supply of probationers who need your personal attention.

For further information concerning this community service project call or come to the 34th District Court, 30240 Eureka Rd., Romulus.

The phone number is 941-4462. When calling ask for Charles Walls who can enroll you in the VPO training sessions.

Romulus will enforce residency ordinance

Romulus city employees who have not complied with the city's new residency ordinance will be suspended today and given 30 days to comply or be permanently discharged under orders recently issued by the council.

The new residency law became effective Aug. 4 a year after its adoption. The city employees were given a year to comply with provisions of the ordinance. At the Sept. 26 council session, Councilman Brooker R. Edwards made a motion that all employees who have not complied with the residency law be suspended and given 30 days to comply or be permanently discharged from city employment. He was supported by Councilman Edmund W. Bizek.

Special show set

A special projects show will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at the Huron Senior High School gymnasium in New Boston.

This sports show is being presented to acquaint students, residents of the community and staff members of the high school with a special program of outdoor challenges.

Area businesses will present displays of equipment, demonstrations and information.

The special projects program is patterned after the outward bound concept which uses challenging activities to increase personal enjoyment of outdoors, to provide opportunities and to work cooperatively with others on difficult tasks.

Activities may include canoeing, camping, backpacking, skiing, cross-country skiing, cycling and ice boating.

Area concert is postponed

The concert planned by the Romulus Jaycees and the Romulus Recreation Department had to be postponed due to weather conditions last Saturday.

Lou Warden, Jaycee chairman, said that event will be rescheduled in the near future, but no date had been set.

Democratic Club opens

The Van Buren-Belleville Democratic Club has announced the opening of the club's election headquarters at 517 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville.

The opening of the Democratic headquarters will be celebrated at an open house affair to be held from 4 to 7 p.m. Saturday.

Local Democratic candidates will be in attendance. Free refreshments will be served.

Fellowship names officer

The senior united methodist youth fellowship of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville elected officers for the coming year.

Elected at the fellowship's Oct. 1 meeting were: Ruth Ann Smith, president; Dale Noff, vice president; and Connie Payne secretary-treasurer.

Romulus will enforce residency ordinance

The council approved the motion by a roll call vote of 5 to 2. Councilmen William M. Oakley and James C. Stewart voted against the motion.

The ordinance, when adopted a year ago, required city employees to move into the community 12 months after being hired.

Council President Jimmie Raspberry said the city repeatedly delayed enforcement to afford about 12 employees ample time to move into the city.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar said that personnel records show all but one of the employees live in the city. The one employee is waiting for his new home to be completed.
